risr/assess OSCE delivery

risr/assess Objective Structured Clinical Examination (OSCE) delivery pricing consists of two main components, a standard Question Bank licence, and a per-candidate delivery licence. For exam delivery, both a Question Bank licence and delivery licence(s) are required. There are no minimum volumes for risr/assess OSCE delivery.

Licensing is linked to the committed interview volume band. For example, for 1250 learners, pricing at a band of 1001-1500 would apply. This enables customers to benefit from standard volume based discounts based on the number of candidate licences utilised and committed to each subscription year. A reconciliation is carried out at the end of each subscription year for any overage.

risr/platform pricing

The risr/platform is a cloud hosted service, made up of 3 key components, which can be utilised as a full-suite of integrated service modules or as standalone assessment and training/membership service modules.

- risr/apply Exam and Event booking & registrations
- risr/assess End-to-end exam management & delivery
- risr/advance Workplace based assessments, ePortfolio & CPD/PCS

Pricing for the risr/platform service modules are based on a number of factors:

• the type, complexity and size of institution cohorts utilising the modules
• the method and nature of the assessments
• the service modules of the risr/platform
• the level of support required
• the implementation / onboarding services required

The SaaS licence fees include the software licence, annual support, ongoing maintenance, future developments and hosting. Fees for on-boarding services are generally charged on implementation, utilising standard packages based on size, complexity and length of implementation.

No charge is made for staff or administrator users on the system - access is included as part of the main licence fee.
