Incident Response Retainer

When the last thing anyone needs is a cyber incident, the first thing everyone needs is CYSIAM. Immediate expert intervention to contain attacks, minimise business disruption, protect your operations and reputation, and ensure stakeholder confidence.

CYSIAM's incident response retainer provides:

- Immediate operational continuity
  Guaranteed 24/7/365 response so you're not scrambling to find help whilst critical operations shut down and costs spiral.
- Predictable expert response
  Eliminates the chaos and panic premiums of emergency consulting with world-class expertise on demand.
- Professional crisis management
  Expert coordination and comprehensive documentation that lets you communicate confidently when the board demands explanations and regulators start asking questions.
- Operational risk mitigation
  Digital forensics, threat intelligence, and incident analysis that identifies the full scope of compromise before it gets worse, preventing the "how did we miss this?" conversations with your executive team.
- Business continuity preservation
  Rapid containment and structured recovery that gives your valuable customers the confidence that you're dealing with any threat effectively.
- Regulatory compliance assurance
  Follows NCSC best practice guidance that satisfies auditors and regulators, and protects your professional reputation.
- Leadership preparedness
  Table-top exercise with your senior leadership team that prepares you for the pressure-cooker decisions and stakeholder communications required during a real incident.

Why CYSIAM?

Because when you need it most CYSIAM provides independent, professional and discreet cybersecurity services that protect what you've built while you focus on running your business.

Our UK and international government, military and private sector experience means we see and understand threats early. We know how sophisticated attackers operate because we've been defending against them at the highest levels.

This isn't just technical support - it's crisis leadership. We understand that cyber incidents aren't just IT problems - they're business emergencies that can destroy reputations, relationships, and revenues. Our approach combines world-class technical expertise with the operational understanding you need to emerge even stronger, not just survive.
