The way we work is changing dramatically
Distributed teams are more common than ever, Agile practices and design thinking are becoming part of companies large and small, and there's a growing amount of content that's produced and consumed at work. It's increasingly challenging for teams to work well together.

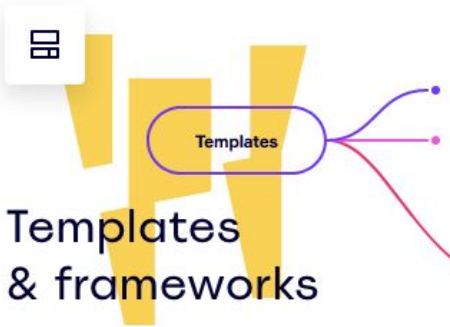
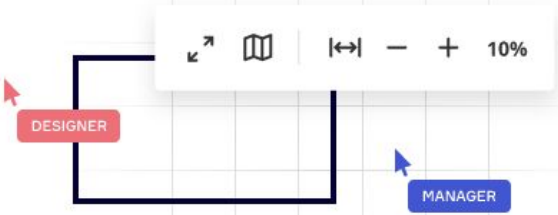
Create & innovate faster

Empower cross-functional discovery and brainstorming through an infinite canvas, robust set of widgets, pre-built templates, and powerful platform capabilities.
Miro presents an entire toolkit for user story or customer journey maps, wireframing, roadmap or sprint planning, retros, and more.



Templates & frameworks

Use pre-built templates or create your own templates and smart frameworks.



Infinite canvas

Unleash your creativity and work the way you want to with an infinite canvas.

Utilize sticky notes, freeform pen, shapes, arrows, smart drawing, and more.

Make collaboration easier

Better engage distributed and remote teams in brainstorming, processes, workshops, and decision making with digital workspaces that enable asynchronous and synchronous collaboration — just as easily as if everyone were in the same room.

Mouseover collaboration

See collaborators' cursors to track how team members engage with your boards.

Easy screen sharing & presentations

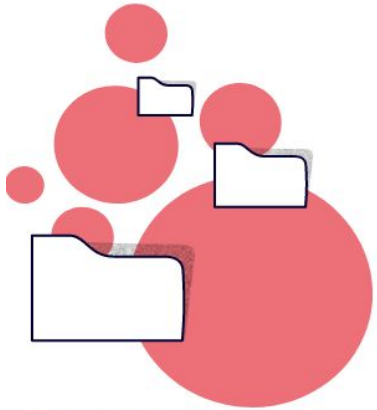
Share your work directly from the Miro platform.

Embedded video, chat, & commenting

Get feedback, reviews, and approvals with multiple communication options.

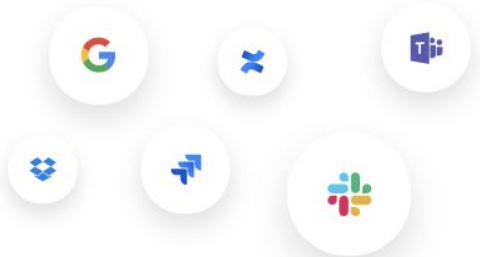
Centralize & standardize communication

Create a hub for cross-functional work that also works with all your other tools. Standardize and scale processes company wide, whether your team is colocated or distributed worldwide.



Projects

Find boards faster through easy folder organization and structure.



20+ integrations

Streamline your workflow with integrations to Slack, Jira, Google Drive, Sketch, and more.
