

BUSINESS ANALYSIS

Are the risks of business needs and poor requirements capture causing you anxiety?

We know that inexperienced or under-pressure staff can contribute to poor requirements capture, smart refinement and a poor understanding of true business needs; mistakes which can threaten project deliverables and run a project into trouble.

SVGC have over 26 years' experience in effective Business Analyses and Requirements Management, managing and supporting all phases of the requirements management life cycle. We are highly adept at elucidating, refining, prioritising and managing project requirements and introducing effective practices to drive programme deliverables.

We provide a full range of cost-effective Business Analysis services including:

- Business Analyst expertise - either integrated into the organisation or as part of an independent programme or project team
- Business Process Modelling - including PESTLE, MOST and SWOT
- Requirements extraction - the complete MOSCOW elucidation process
- Solution exploration, assessment and viability

If your programme/project/organisation needs:

- Commercial acumen with experienced and detailed technical knowledge and robust business analysis skills
- Full visibility and control of complex, high priority projects through formal business analysis and requirements capture
- Smart, effective, objective, viable and assurable requirements, across agile and hybrid projects
- Effective tracking and monitoring of projects' requirements
- Deliverables on deadline to an exceptional standard

Contact SVGC today to see how we can provide high-quality, effective and controlled delivery of your most important programmes and projects.
