Nexis® Solutions: Enhanced by AI

Extract. Summarize. Generate. Empower.

A new generation of AI is coming to LexisNexis® products. Leverage the expansive content library known and trusted by businesses worldwide, now enhanced with Artificial Intelligence (AI) that makes unlocking insight faster and easier than ever. Get ready for a revolutionary new research experience built to supercharge your workflow.

Extract insight from massive files in seconds

Harvest insight buried in massive documents, just by asking a question. Simply upload a document, and start asking your AI-powered chatbot about the file's contents. Discover insight in your competitor's annual report, summarize a research paper's findings in seconds, and pull out key figures, using AI that accelerates document-based research.

Generate first drafts you can trust

Just one click is all it takes to reliably report your new discoveries. AI transforms your collected snippets of insight into a time-saving first draft. Control the topics and insights you want to focus your first draft on, with citations added to your first draft that showcase the trusted sources you're using. Best of all: your discoveries are exclusively used for generating drafts, not training an AI model.

Summarize market and media intelligence

Get smart on any subject with speed and clarity. Summarization of news content expands your understanding of a topic, company or trend in seconds. Leverage a vast content library sourced from around the globe. Enjoy bite-sized insight served up as you explore, before diving into the source article directly to gain even greater insight.

Empower anyone to be an expert researcher

Upskill your search capabilities without having to change your workflow. Enjoy a boost to the specificity and accuracy of your search results when AI-powered conversion turns conversational queries into Boolean-quality ones. Eliminate the skill gap between novice and professional researchers, and empower your team with search that gives them the answers they need to the questions real people ask.
