

Atlassian Software Licensing

Save time and gain more control over your applications with expert management and co-terming of your Atlassian licenses.

As of February 2nd 2021, Atlassian customers can no longer purchase or request a quote for new Server licenses. Customers new to Atlassian now have no option but to go straight to Data Center or Cloud.

As you consider your options in moving away from Server, our experts are here to help take the stress out of Cloud and Data Center licensing.

Adaptavist licensing solutions give you a single touchpoint for all of your business-critical Atlassian software.

More than just a reseller, our team's expertise as a leading Atlassian Platinum and Enterprise partner helps you get more value from your license portfolio.

Access Atlassian licensing management that simplifies your processes via co-terming, and delivers a single point of contact dedicated to serving your team.

Optimisation and co-terming

As the use of Atlassian software grows in an organisation, Cloud and Data Center licensing can become painfully complex.

Via a comprehensive audit, our team can find consolidation points that yield big savings, and provide PO-based purchasing along with flexible payment terms that work better for your business.

Simplified procurement

Take control of your Atlassian software licensing for Jira, Confluence, Bitbucket, your entire add-on app portfolio, and more.

We deliver a unified overview that's always accessible, and makes administration and delivery easy for your purchasing and IT departments.
