Glyn Clough - what's your thoughts on this? Watch the video at the bottom of the page (above contact us). I think the image map product looks great and their pricing structure is interesting too. They also have other products listed.

Thanks for sending this through! That is interesting. Some initial thoughts:
- Philosophically speaking, I'm not convinced this is actually something that you'd want to give all sites the ability to do. It's harking back to the day of heavy content management for pure appearances sake.
- There are obviously exceptions to this though, in which case it could be appropriate.

Yeah would be interesting to hear peoples thoughts. My initial thoughts was it was over the top but was very impressed with the functionality (I also like the timeline idea which is simpler). My thoughts on the cost was it was expensive at £999 per site but below that it says £1999 for multiple sites.
I kind of agree with you on the content just for appearance sake but also know that this is currently all a lot of clients care about (its pretty etc.).
I know the image map functionality is something a lot of people ask for too (well they do at RR). The ability to click on button or image and have pop out of information of navigate within an image. They are used to it on classic SP with JS.

The hashtags from the Workplace post have migrated to their specific posts in Yammer and Yammer also consolidates the hashtags in the thread

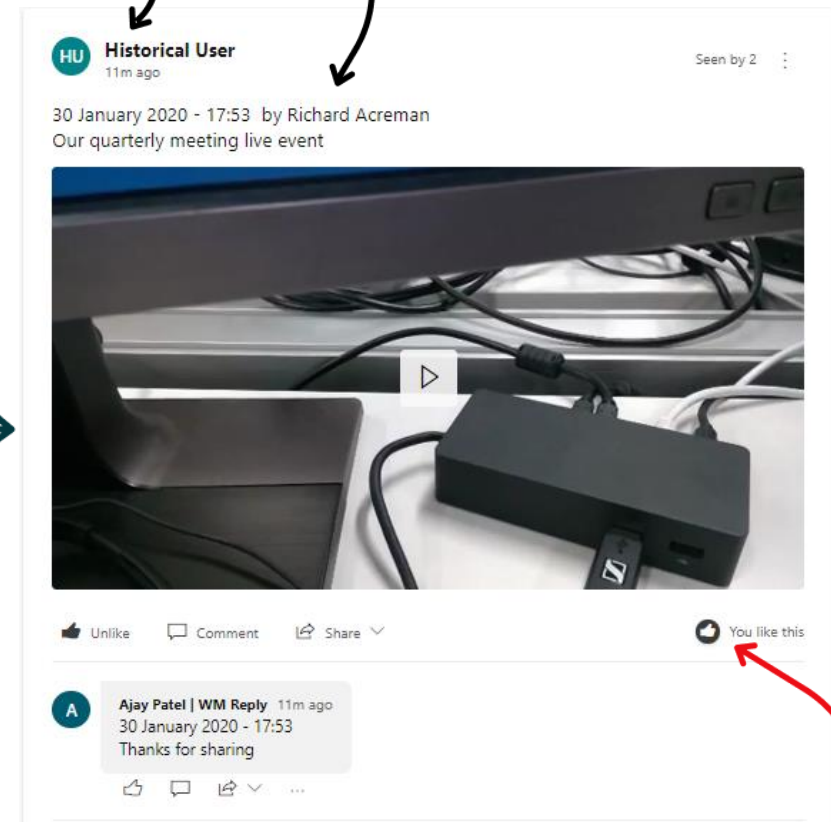

WORKPLACE TO YAMMER MIGRATION EXAMPLE

This is an example of a user who was not migrated across and instead all posts map to a shared account, which the client can name. The user's full name or E-Mail address can be listed next to the original date and time of the post.

The video file has migrated and can be played in-line in the post on Yammer

Likes have been retained and Workplace reactions can be mapped accordingly

COMING SOON...

Our migration solution currently supports the migration of Workplace reactions to Yammer Likes.

Yammer is now rolling out reactions for the New Yammer and we will be extending our migration tool to support these new interactions, which can be mapped accordingly to the client's preference.

OTHER CONSIDERATIONS

When it comes to making change work in a “live” enterprise environment – we appreciate the importance of the little things.

Delta Migrations

Your Enterprise Social Network is a live platform, with new content every day. Our tool “tops up” content before the switchover, ensuring that no content is lost.

Targeted Content Migrations

When moving to a new Yammer network, you may only want to bring across the latest-and-greatest content from your original platform. We can scope the migration to almost any specification.

Privacy and Prefixing

Public groups may have been a good idea in your old network – but perhaps your newer network has a much wider audience. We can automatically “privatise” your migrating groups, until you’ve decided on a longer-term plan.
