

CYBANETIX AT A GLANCE

SECURE YOUR BUSINESS, PEOPLE AND NETWORK.

Cybanetix is a next-gen Cyber Security provider working to combat today's constantly evolving cyber security and threat landscape.

We aim to be the trusted advisor of our customers and build lasting partnership through providing expert advice, a 360 degree security technology portfolio and comprehensive service offering.

Customers security requirement differs significantly dependant on industry, size and geography. Working with customers we design ways of working supported by technologies which improve their security posture.

As a charity and an event space, we face several different security challenges that your typical 9-5 organisation will not face. We needed someone that has the experience and the expertise in the charity sector to ensure we meet all of our security needs. Not only Cybanetix has the experience we needed, but also provided a faultless service that we are very happy with."

ADAM WOODALL
HEAD OF IT AT MAC

SOLUTIONS

A Security technology Eco System

Cyber Security technology spans every aspect of any organisations IT infrastructure as well as any externally available information; which inevitably means that most organisations deploy and manage in excess of 7 different inter-linked security technologies.

The complexity of the market inevitably makes it hard to understand the risks to your business and which technologies are appropriate to mitigate any risks that are identified. As an organisation, it is therefore increasingly hard to keep up with the latest technologies and determine which strategy is the right one.

At Cybanetix we have chosen to work with a select number of technology partners which covers all aspects of cyber security. This eco-system of technologies is designed to make each technology strengthen the other through natural integrations, ultimately making our solutions more secure.

SERVICES

Expertise and Service

Cybanetix has leading Solutions architects and Technology experts continuously assessing emerging technologies as well as the development of existing ones. This means we are very well placed to give you advice on how to address your security requirements.

Cybanetix has extensive experience working with customers to plan, assist and manage large scale migrations from legacy security platforms and technologies, to new solutions and technologies. In addition to the implementation and migration of security technologies,

Cybanetix has a comprehensive service and consultancy offering providing customer with advisory, outsource and managed services for cyber security and compliance.

