1.0 Managed Detection and Response (MDR)

Benefits

- Cost effective over traditional SOC and in-house services.

- Rapidly mature your detection and response capability.

- Doesn't limit incident response support to provider driven technology.

- Customised incident response plans and playbooks.

- Flexible and scalable service to meet all requirements.

- Able to rapidly deploy and transition to a leading Microsoft security stack comprising of Microsoft Sentinel and the full Microsoft Defender XDR product suite (if required).

- Cost, benefit management for cloud SIEM technologies.

- Continual integration of threat intelligence for the improvement of detection and response, along with risk management and the identification of preventative improvements to link into budget planning.

- Flexible contract terms.

Pricing

Pricing of the MDR service is driven by the number of users and non-user allocated devices/ nodes.

Pricing is variable based upon the service tier and agreed scope.

Item	From (per month)
Users	£5.25
Servers	£3.04

Deployment costs vary based upon the technology and process integration requirements and are costed based upon the SFIA rate card, starting at £500 per day.

Bridewell