

Application Design Development, Testing and Support

Baseel Limited provides Application Design, Development, Testing and Support Services for range of technologies. We provide strategy and transition from traditional to cloud based services. We also can provide functional, system and unit testing

Service features

- Wide range of experienced resources
- Support multiple cloud platforms AWS, AZURE, Google, others
- Can provide training to the internal resources
- Huge experience in working closely with client user communities
- End to end testing capability from design to execution
- System, System Integration, User Acceptance Testing all supported
- Continuous assessment and management of project, product risks
- Business continuity assessment
- Development of documentation - policies, procedures, handbooks
- Business case creation for application design and development

Service benefits

- Our approach ensures repeatability and consistency.
- Improvements in efficiency and effectiveness
- support secure private, public and hybrid cloud hosting services
- Alignment with business goals
- Enable rapid adaptation for business agility
- Achieve cost advantages through standardisation
- Can be scaled using self-service and shared service teams
- Buyer-centric, agile practices can deliver solutions
- Onsite and offshore resources