ClearBox is an established consultancy (2007) and provides services with simple day / hour rates.

When a project is well planned and the objectives and deliverables are clear, we can price a body of work at a fixed price.

Many of our services rely on our robust project framework with repeatable processes, and therefore our client engagements can be streamlined and efficient, helping you understand workload, timelines, and to hit deadlines.

We're keen to be easy to work with, considering budget and procurement processes.
