PRICING DOCUMENT

BRUHATI SOLUTIONS LTD

Pricing Approach

We put our clients first by listening to their needs to understand what the best solutions and services for their organisation is.

We can quickly identify costs and complexity drivers to provide our services to you. We are extremely competitive with our rates and our service offering is tailored to meet your budget requirements.

Our teams can engage quickly, react fast, and are up and running to support your organisation's needs. We will carefully plan and estimate the work in the proposal sent to you, support you during the agreement phase and provide you access to our teams soon after engagement sign-off.

Bruhati Directors are always involved in setting up the service for you and are a point of reference throughout the engagement to always ensure the best quality service.

Pricing Models

We offer three simple and transparent pricing models:

Fixed Price: The risk of the delivery is transferred to Bruhati. After a careful assessment of your requirements, Bruhati will be providing an accurate estimate of the project with an initial work breakdown structure that clearly explains the estimate, the deliverables and delivery timeline.

Time and Material: A simple pricing model based on providing an agreed number of resources to supplement your organisation. Please refer to the SFIA role pricing model for further details.

Managed Service: Our Managed services can take care of all your business needs, so you do not have to. We know that price is important, hence we offer an extremely competitive managed service. We are ready to work in any location and with our Near-Shore service delivery model we can reduce cost and maximise efficiency. A detailed pricing model will be agreed with you when discussing a managed service agreement.
