Service Definition Document

KC4i Solutions Ltd is a UK based professional services company that specialises in the provision of strategic and operational support to UK Defence and other Government departments. We are subject matter experts in the delivery of Portfolio, Programme and Project Management services with a pedigree in Defence, Digital, Information and C4ISR services. We work with your team to optimise performance and deliver results on time and on budget.

Our pro-active and versatile team of experts have strong technical backgrounds developed during careers in capability acquisition and programme management across Defence and wider government. We employ a pragmatic and solution orientated approach that is focused on results and has led to a proven track record of delivering complex projects in resource constrained and rapidly evolving environments.

Key Skills Offered

- Project and Programme Management. We have a broad experience of complex project and programme management using both agile and waterfall methodologies. Our team have a strong pedigree in technical acquisition specialising in IT, C4ISR, targeting and unmanned air systems.
- Approvals and Assurance. Our team has had extensive involvement with internal departmental, GDS, Cabinet Office and HMT spend approval processes and are trained in business case development and benefits realisation. We can support your organisation in obtaining the necessary spending approvals with our knowledge of the approvals, assurance and accreditation processes and our detailed understanding of financial management and commercial practices.
- Risk, Assumption and Dependency Management. Our qualified risk practitioners have the ability to comprehensively manage risks and opportunities to maximise delivery of project benefits and minimise disruption. We are adept in the use of Active Risk Manager (ARM) as well as ADAM for the management of assumptions and dependencies.
- Subject Matter Experts in C4ISR and Targeting Information Services. Our team have successfully managed the simultaneous delivery of several complex strategic, C4ISR application and infrastructure hosting projects across the UK's Defence estate at various security classifications. We have intimate knowledge of the C4ISR, targeting and geo-spatial application and information landscape with close relationships across the various Defence communities.

- Leadership and Management. Our team has extensive experience leading and managing large and diverse teams in the most demanding circumstances in both military and civilian environments and can adapt the leadership style as required to generate cohesive and motivated teams.
- Organisational Ability. We can conduct complex organisational tasks with minimal resources and under significant time constraints.
- Communication and Influence. We pride ourselves on being effective oral and written communicators, championing a succinct style and strong presentational skills combined with an engaging and approachable manner that builds trust and exerts subtle influence.
- Loyalty and Reliability. All our staff have the highest degree of personal integrity and maintain active security clearance.

We aim to provide a close, dependable, committed and flexible partner service to your organisation that will optimise your delivery and drive efficiency into your ways of working.

We look forward to making a contribution that counts.
