

G Cloud Service Definition Document

ALM Consulting has over 20 years of experience in delivering successful projects for a range of customers across numerous private industries, including logistics and distribution, energy, and healthcare as well as public sector and charities. ALM Consulting can translate requirements into easy-to-use solutions leveraging the Atlassian stack, its marketplace of 3rd party apps and bespoke apps where appropriate.

ALM Consulting is a Microsoft Partner with significant experience in configuring, managing, and supporting Azure infrastructure, Office365, Dynamics 365 and the portfolio of Microsoft security offerings. ALM Consulting is also experienced with Amazon Web Services as a Cloud hosting platform and can therefore select the most appropriate services and platform for customer solutions.

ALM Consulting achieves exceptional results for its customers by having personable, dependable consultants who take pride in delivering real value by leveraging their experience and who keep up to date on the latest technologies through ongoing training and development.

ALM Consulting can advise and provide expertise across the whole software and Service Management lifecycles, with experience working with a wide range of Agile, DevOps and automation technologies and frameworks. ALM Consulting also provides end-to-end consultancy and implementation services for application and Cloud migration projects.