OVERVIEW

Leidos offers the Cloud Strategise Service, designed to help you define and refine your cloud strategy, whether as a standalone exercise or as an integral part of a broader cloud migration or transformation project. Employing our iterative Agile approach, we delve deep into understanding your business to effectively collaborate with your stakeholders and develop a compelling outline business case (OBC).

Our service features comprehensive collaboration with stakeholders to forge a robust cloud strategy, using workshops to fully grasp your motivations, aspirations, and business objectives. We focus on aligning your cloud strategy with your overall business strategy and explore financial options within the cloud's variable cost models. The service includes the development of a tailored cloud operating model for your organisation, ensuring that all security and compliance mandates are met, and establishing robust governance for your cloud migration projects.

Opting for Leidos's Cloud Strategise Service provides numerous benefits. You gain a deep understanding of your organisation, stakeholders, and aspirations, facilitated by experienced professionals using innovative techniques. Our collaborative approach allows for the rapid elicitation of valuable information, accelerating your cloud migration or transformation projects from their inception. By recording requirements, exploring risk appetites, and assessing organisational readiness, we create a solid baseline for project tracking and strategic decision-making. The service ensures that all aspects of strategy—cultural, people, mandatory, and aspirational—are aligned, providing a holistic approach that encompasses risk, technology, and insights for well-informed decision-making. With Leidos, you are equipped to make rapid, controlled progress in your cloud journey, backed by full understanding and strategic alignment.

2 ANY ONBOARDING AND OFFBOARDING SUPPORT YOU PROVIDE

Where relevant, Leidos will adopt a consultative approach with customers to define and validate their requirements in order to determine how best to engage with the services. The onboarding and offboarding process is dependent on the specific requirements of the solution, and the delivery methodology agreed upon.
