Aternity™

Riverbed Aternity Digital Experience Management pricing

Full spectrum digital experience observability

Aternity provides insights into end-user experiences across various digital services and applications. The service monitors and analyses user interactions with applications, networks, and devices to identify performance issues, optimise workflows, and improve overall user satisfaction.

The price of Aternity is calculated from a variety of factors, for example:

- Device inventory, performance and health
- Automated remediation
- Application discovery
- User experience score
- End to end activity tracing
- Data retention
- Custom dashboards
- Your desired level of technical support

For many years we have supplied, installed, and managed network, VoIP and application performance monitoring solutions to various network operators, government departments and police forces critical to the UK's infrastructure and security. You're in safe hands with Red Helix.

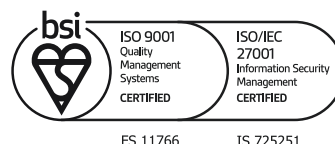

Please contact us to discuss your needs so we may provide an accurate quote.
