

G-Cloud 15 Pricing

Allen Lane understands the challenges of the current economic climate in the public sector and will always aim to optimise value for money.

Our G-Cloud 15 rate card details the maximum price we will charge for resources at each level. However, we will seek opportunities as permitted under the framework and in agreement with the customers to reduce these rates.

Where we work with third party associates to deliver the consultancy services, in line with market conditions we may be able to obtain discounted rates from them to allow us to reduce our pricing. We will also seek to optimise the size and structure of the team we deploy to maximise value for money.

When the scope of work for a particular call off contract is defined, we will confirm the appropriate total pricing as part of the G-Cloud order form.