What is LearnStream for Mosaic?

LearnStream is an innovative approach for training people how to use Mosaic systems using digital online training and virtual learning. This end-to-end solution, using a blend of recognised training techniques, is an ideal way to equip people with the skills they need, anywhere and on any device.

It's quick to deploy, easy to remember and cost-effective. Using LearnStream, your organisation will achieve less disruption, reduced risk and an improved return on investment compared to classroom learning.

Why LearnStream for Mosaic E-Learning?

It's efficient

LearnStream improves your return on investment because it is up to 50% more cost-effective than standard face-to-face training. The higher standards of training reduces the risk of incorrect information being processed, improving data quality.

It's end-to-end

LearnStream is a holistic solution that reduces training time frames by taking care of the entire process – from content development through to delivery. All staff receive consistent, high quality training to achieve desired standards.

It's effective

LearnStream guarantees a positive training outcome through regular knowledge reinforcement, and ongoing 24/7 support ensuring employee competency before go-live, after go-live and during business as usual.

How it works

LearnStream for Mosaic training is designed to deliver a comprehensive overview of the essential basic functionality, and navigation around Mosaic.

All material is engaging and has been developed in collaboration with subject matter experts. In addition, all learners have access to consistent digital materials, enabling them to work at their own pace, fitting training around shift patterns. Learning is always consolidated through repetition and practice and the materials can be accessed as a refresher at any time.

The LearnStream approach follows 8 key steps:

I wanted to thank you for all of your efforts to deliver the pre-go-live training plan. We had over 350 people ready to use the system, which is down to your excellent work and the scores for the learning objectives were 90%! The Social Care DMT were really pleased and encouraged as was our Strategic Director. Well done and much appreciated!
