

altia. | Insight

Records, investigation and case management all in one place.

With key information and documents all in one place, identify patterns, uncover connections and manage investigative information in a robust way that includes the preparation of court-ready documents. Sharing information with your team and other organisations is made seamless, as is allocating resources and tracking the progress of investigations.

Why Insight?

Intuitive workflow

Improve the structure, governance and output of complex investigations with intuitive workflows that make it easy to apply appropriate authorisation processes every step of the way.

At a glance view of progress

Management and investigation-specific dashboards for oversight, monitoring and reporting. Manage team progress. Allocate and see actions.

Compliant and auditable

Demonstrate compliance and best practice investigation standards via policy logs, risk assessments, action management and recorded outcomes.

Single intelligence database

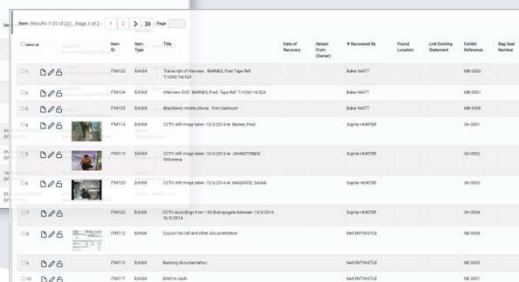

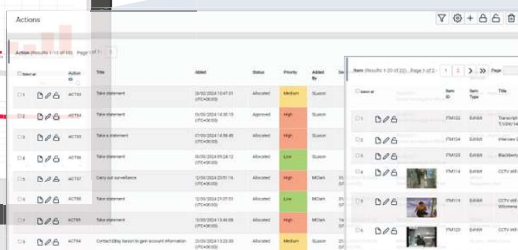

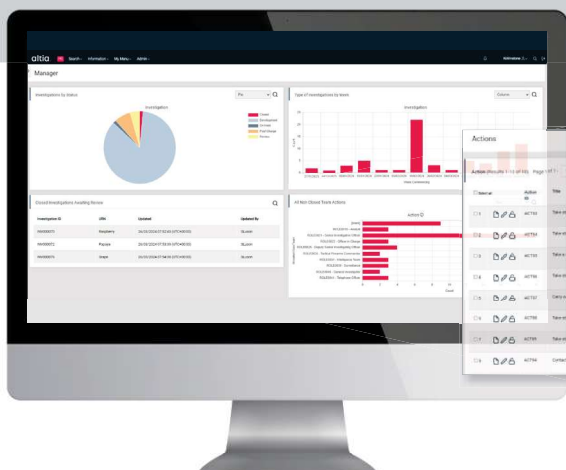

Single, secure and auditable point of knowledge. Log source information, create intelligence items and link them to the POLE database within Insight for advanced linking within and between cases.

End-to-end evidence

With Insight, you'll only need one system to manage any type or size of investigation — with everything in one place. Store and search your additional materials and evidence assets.

Court-ready

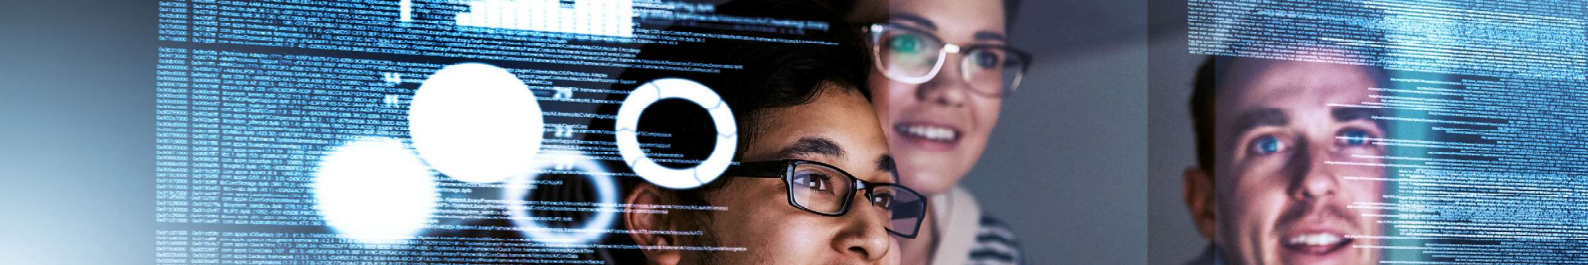

Create court documents and investigation reports at the click of a button.
