SECURITY AWARENESS TRAINING

THREAT READY

LRQA
Your Risk Management Advantage

ENGAGE. EDUCATE. EMPOWER.

Human error remains the leading cause of cybersecurity breaches. Even the most advanced technical controls can be bypassed by a single click on a phishing link or a well-placed social engineering call.

LRQA deliver consultant-led, interactive Security Awareness Training that uses real-world “war stories” to make threats tangible and relatable for your staff.

We transform your workforce from a potential vulnerability into your first line of defence. By instilling a “security-first” mindset, employees are empowered to recognize, reject, and report sophisticated attacks.

Our approach can be integrated with phishing simulations and social engineering exercises to baseline your culture and measure the tangible reduction of risk over time.

SERVICE PRINCIPLES

INTERACTIVE AND ENGAGING

We avoid passive training. Our sessions are designed to be two-way dialogues, encouraging questions and sharing experiences. This interactive format typically achieves far higher engagement levels.

CULTURE OVER COMPLIANCE

Our goal is to build a robust security culture, not just satisfy an audit requirement. We focus on positive reinforcement by teaching staff why security matters and providing practical takeaways they can implement immediately.

REAL-WORLD RELEVANCE

Our trainers are active security consultants and penetration testers. They don't just recite policy; they demonstrate how attackers operate and relate concepts to employees' personal lives which drives deeper engagement and retention.

OUR APPROACH

Discovery & Tailoring

We start by understanding your organisation's specific threat landscape and culture. Whether your risks are focused on remote working, invoice fraud, or physical tailgating, we tailor the content to address your unique "human vulnerabilities".

Interactive Delivery

We deliver dynamic sessions (in-person or remote) covering critical topics like phishing, social engineering, password hygiene, and data handling. We use live examples of recent attacks to demonstrate the sophistication of modern threats.

Validation (Simulations)

To reinforce the training, we can pair sessions with simulated phishing campaigns or social engineering tests. This allows you to measure the practical effectiveness of the training and identify areas where further support is needed.
