G-Cloud 15 Service Description

Webex Calling

CHANGE CLIENTS CAN FEEL AT EVERY LEVEL

ABOUT THE SERVICE

Webex Calling is a robust, cloud-based telephony solution integrated within the Cisco Webex platform. It offers advanced voice and call management features for businesses of all sizes, enabling seamless communication and collaboration with global reach. The service ensures secure, reliable voice services from anywhere, on any device.

The service features include cloud-based telephony with global reach, advanced call management features like hold, transfer, and forward, and direct inward dialling (DID) for personal, dedicated phone numbers. It also offers voicemail to email transcription for efficient message retrieval and response, and is integrated with Webex Teams for unified messaging, meeting, and calling.

Webex Calling provides call queues and auto-attendant for professional call distribution and handling, and an easy-to-use Webex Control Hub for administration and analytics. The service ensures secure voice communications with end-to-end encryption standards, is scalable to business needs, from small teams to large enterprises, and supports a wide range of devices, including IP phones and softphones.

The benefits of Webex Calling include enhancing team collaboration with integrated voice, video, and messaging capabilities, reducing IT complexity with a single, cloud-based solution for communication, and offering flexibility and mobility, supporting work from anywhere on any device. It provides a scalable solution that grows with your business needs and ensures business continuity with reliable, high-quality voice services and uptime.

Webex Calling simplifies administration and user management through Webex Control Hub, enhances customer experience with professional call handling features, and supports compliance and security requirements with robust encryption and data protection. It reduces operational costs by eliminating the need for traditional PBX systems and leverages Cisco's global infrastructure for unmatched reliability and performance.

CLIENT SUCCESS

FIRST RESPONSE FINANCE MIGRATES VOICE, DATA AND CALL CENTRE FUNCTIONS TO THE CLOUD WITH NODE4'S HOSTED AND MANAGED UNIFIED COMMUNICATIONS PLATFORM.

With the cloud migration completed, Node4 helped First Response Finance transition to one of Cisco's cloud-based unified communications environments.

At the same time, Node4 upgraded the company's contact centre and Quality Management Suite. The entire solution, which also included cost-saving SIP Trunks, is now hosted and managed by Node4.

"For me, personally, Node4's technical knowledge and experience are unsurpassed. They have Master Service Provider designation for Cisco Powered Infrastructure as a Service and Cisco Powered Disaster Recovery as a Service, which inspired great confidence as the project got underway. Today, Node4 has an excellent reputation throughout the company and, in particular, amongst our senior executives, who acknowledge the positive impact that Node4 has had on our operations," comments James.

He continues: "The quality and reliability of our voice and data communications are incomparable to our last supplier. But if you'd expect this to come at an increased cost, you'd be wrong: We have saved roughly £9,000 per year by using a cloud-based hosted environment and not having to invest capital on IT infrastructure."

We always try and support local businesses and use their services where we can – we're based in Nottingham and Node4 is a Derby-based business with a significant national presence. This makes their success with us doubly pleasing as we're able to fully endorse a local business and encourage others, further afield, to try their services for themselves.
