

Streamline your investigations and see the bigger picture

Trace and identify individuals and businesses with Investigator Online

Smarter searches. Sharper investigations.

Public sector organisations and law enforcement agencies face mounting pressure to locate individuals and businesses quickly and accurately - whether it's verifying identities, connecting the dots between aliases and associates, or building a bigger picture of their movements and financial circumstances. Traditional tools often fall short, offering limited data, clunky interfaces, and poor transparency. Investigations need a smarter and more reliable solution.

Experian's Investigator Online is an easy-to-use, secure tool used for tracing and identifying individuals and businesses. The platform offers flexibility through customisable search attributes, allowing you to tailor queries to the specific demands of each case. With privacy and security at the forefront, users have defined access levels with each action logged for full transparency, supporting audit trails and ensuring accountability at every step.

Benefit from a complete investigative picture. All powered by Experian data.
