

Incident Readiness

PRICING METHODOLOGY

Each Incident Response Readiness exercise is costed individually based upon a 'Statement of Work' determined by the customer's technical assurance objectives and the resources required to deliver the testing desired. The Cyberis headline rates are between £1,100—£1,700 plus VAT, per consultant day, subject to resources requested in line with the Government Digital and Data Profession Capability Framework roles.

Delivery of services is based on a daily rate of the required resources; where a mix of different resources is required, a blended day rate is usually provided covering a whole engagement. The reader should refer to the Government Digital and Data Profession Capability Framework roles for more information.

Engagements may be scoped at a fixed price, or on a time and materials basis depending on the nature of the project and the customer's preference.

Consultant day rates are exclusive of expenses, which are typically recharged to the customer at cost. If the customer prefers, an increased daily rate can be offered which is inclusive of expenses.

Statement of Work

A 'Statement of Work' will be produced by Cyberis for each engagement which sets out the service requirements, resource requirements, invoice/charging and delivery basis, into a Cyberis Proposal document. The 'Statement of Work' forms the entire service contract, subject to G-Cloud 15 Terms and Conditions.

The minimum contract period is 1 day.
