1. License Costs & Subscription

Contract Bee removes traditional cost barriers linked to contract value through a simple per-user subscription model, with the flexibility to scale directly within the app as your usage grows.

We recognise that as contract values increase, pricing must remain competitive at scale. That's why our model is deliberately designed to adapt to the way you contract. Based on contract type, value and user volumes, we can offer discounts of up to 50% against banded pricing, positioning Contract Bee as one of the most cost-effective solutions on the market.

For smaller teams managing lower-value contracts, this creates an accessible, scalable entry point with costs kept firmly under control. Equally, for organisations managing high-value contracts with larger user bases, we offer tailored pricing structures that ensure you only pay for what you need. Whatever your contract profile, Contract Bee delivers a pricing model built to fit.
