1. Overview

This document is intended to provide a general pricing overview of Nine Software's Collisions processing platform. Please treat as "Commercial - In Confidence" not to be shared without prior written consent from The Nine Software Company Ltd (Nine).

Nine have a rich heritage in SaaS products that transform manual processes. We have built digital applications that processed the OVRO (also known as Foreign Nationals Registrations / Police Registration Scheme) and Firearms licensing activities within UK Police Forces. Nine rolled these hugely successful products out into 25 of the UK forces including the Metropolitan Police Service, Greater Manchester Police alongside several other notable forces.

Our Collisions processing platform builds on from those hugely successful applications, being designed to efficiently capture requests for documentation from members of the public or corporate users, to efficiently process and use the data provided, to take payments and to allow the users to select which evidence documents they wish to purchase and follow through with delivery electronically. It is all achieved via a Front-End which is accessible to the end public or corporate users and a secure Back-Office which is only to be used by authorised internal users.

Our application dramatically speeds up the manual processing of applications, saves time and money and provides a historical accessible record without the need for cabinets of papers and documentation.
