Security Platform Implementation and Migration

Security Platform Implementation and Migration

Hippo delivers secure, scalable security platform implementations and migrations across SIEM, EDR, and cloud native security ecosystems. We support greenfield deployments and like for like or uplifted migrations from legacy tooling, ensuring continuity of detection coverage, operational workflows, and security outcomes.

Our approach combines secure-by-design architecture, normalised telemetry, MITRE ATT&CK aligned detections, and role-based access controls to rapidly operationalise platforms such as Splunk Enterprise Security, CrowdStrike Falcon, Microsoft Sentinel and GCP Security Operations (Chronicle).

The service minimises disruption, reduces technical debt, and ensures platforms are SOC ready, optimised, and aligned to long-term operational needs.
