

Entra ID Discovery and Roadmapping Workshop

Plan your roadmap to full cloud identity. And connect employees, customers, and partners seamlessly to apps, devices, and data.

The increasing complexity of the IT landscape, coupled with the increasing volume and sophistication of cyber threats, calls for a modern cloud-first approach to identity management.

In fact:

82% of organisations say their business has been exposed to a risk because of poor identity management – while

47% struggle to balance security with ease of use.

Raconteur Cybersecurity Report 2022

A modern approach to IAM can serve as the cornerstone of any organisation's security posture, allowing you to keep up with flexible working demands across multiple endpoints and apps.

Your challenges:

- Provisioning accounts – Connecting a dispersed workforce to enterprise systems and apps on-premises and in the cloud.
- Managing access and privilege – Letting remote users access corporate information and services without increasing security risks.
- Ensuring compliance – Maintaining appropriate user access with roles and permission requirements constantly changing.
- Access Reviews and deprovisioning – Ensuring the whole life cycle is managed - with access reviewed and removed in a timely manner.

How can Entra ID help:

- Security and productivity – Balance security and productivity with single sign-on (SSO) and multi-factor authentication (MFA).
- Seamless access – Provide a seamless user experience – any device, any location, and anytime access to apps and data.
- Granular control – Protect systems and data from inadvertent usage – you have granular control over who has access to what.
- Efficient JML and access governance – Easily manage the joiner, mover, leaver process to keep access appropriate – and improve employee satisfaction.

Re-thinking identity management should be the starting point for any organisation looking to access cloud-based applications.

You've got to consider authentication, administrative controls, where data resides and who has access to it.

I would strongly recommend Kocho' services. They are experts in their field and will deliver an identity platform that will allow you to navigate securely to the cloud, quickly and seamlessly.

UWE IT Services

– Alistair Sandford, Senior Project Manager

The Entra ID Discovery and Roadmap Workshop

Kocho is one of Microsoft's leading partners for identity in the UK. Our workshops are fully customisable and are designed to help you understand and visualise your current environment, and then to envision how an improved solution would work.

Experience shows that running a discovery workshop early on in an identity project is a highly effective means of eliciting and sharing critical information.

Typically, our workshops include two workshop days, alongside interviews and a review of your current technology. This is then accompanied with a detailed workshop report and the supply of a proposed roadmap.

Workshop deliverables:

Kocho will deliver a post workshop report covering the following:

- An overview of your existing technical infrastructure
- Project plan and scope
- Implementation roadmap
- Identified training needs
- Recommended next steps
- Indicative budgetary estimates
- Proposed schedule and timelines

Workshop Benefits

Our workshop will:

Guide and educate you on identity and access management, and associated technologies.

Encourage a consensus between stakeholders on best approach to identity and access.

Identify preferred implementation options based on current technology, future business requirements and known best practices.

Explore potential business benefits of a solution: cost savings, efficiency and productivity gains, quality of service, enhanced security and compliance.

Uncover hidden challenges, considerations, and provide a high-level implementation roadmap.

Highlight proposed project timescales, indicative costs, and recommendations for next steps.

Reveal how our business transformation team unlocks success through user-centric change management.

Become greater with Kocho

Speak to one of our identity experts to define the scope of your Entra ID discovery workshop.

T: 0800 044 5009

E: hello@kocho.co.uk