Scale does not use fixed subscription fees. Instead, you pay based on what you actually need — the type and complexity of data annotation, the volume of data, and how quickly you need results.

For small or experimental projects, you can use a self-serve, pay-as-you-go option: you only pay for the tasks you submit.

For larger enterprise-scale work, we will provide a custom quote tailored to the scope and requirements of your project.

For more information and to receive a tailored, accurate quote in GBP, please contact Generation Digital.
