Academy - G-Cloud 15 Pricing Document

Built Intelligence provides online training and support tools for construction professionals to help them perform better and develop business critical skills. We are one of the market leaders in digital training and support tools for construction professionals.

Our Academy Learning Management System is an easy-to-use Learning Management System (LMS), enabling you and your project teams to access: e-Learning, e-Portfolios, skills assessments, webinars, knowledge management as well as giving your administration team tools to facilitate face-to-face training, monitoring and reporting analytics

Pricing Methodology

Our pricing is split into different components as described below

Licence Fee

The Licence Fee is based on a per user model and is determined by the level of platform features required, the volume of users and the length of term of contract.

We offer three Tiers of platform features. The features and associated pricing for each are set out in full in the table below.

All licence fees include the following as standard:

- UK-based technical support desk
- EU-based hosting
- Security and maintenance
- Dedicated account manager

On-Boarding & Deployment

In order to ensure that our customers receive immediate value from our products, we provide initial configuration, set up and Super User training. This is included in our set up fee, detailed in the table below.

Academy Tiers

Academy can satisfy entry level contract management upskilling requirements, all the way up to the needs of enterprise-wide environments with Reporting & Analytics, API Access, Customisation, Career Journeys and Competency Profiling.

In addition, we offer a hybrid learning approach where online learning is combined with instructor led sessions. This gives delegates the opportunity to question an expert about the content, thus ensuring our clients get value for money by achieving a higher level of commitment and course completions from delegates. This is referred to as "Accelerated" in the table below.

In order to satisfy this broad range of needs we have segmented Academy into differing Tiers, as follows:

Procuring Academy as a Learning Management System (LMS)

Our Academy can be procured as an LMS allowing organisations to upload and manage their own content, along with content from Built Intelligence.

Given the bespoke nature of these requirements, this would be quoted on a case-by-case basis with pricing determined by the volume of users, level of integration, reporting and governance requirements, feature requests, training support and SLAs required.
