

FourNet SD-WAN

Pricing Document for G-Cloud 15

Service Overview

FourNet SD-WAN is a secure, cloud-managed software-defined wide area networking service that provides centralised control, intelligent traffic steering, and integrated security across customer sites.

The service is delivered as Software as a Service (SaaS), with pricing based on site size and subscribed SD-WAN components. Physical connectivity is outside the scope of this pricing.

SD-WAN Overlay Pricing (Subscription)

Pricing below covers the SD-WAN overlay components required to consume the cloud service. Prices are per site, per month, and assume a 36-month subscription term.

What's Included

The FourNet SD-WAN pricing includes:

- Cloud-hosted SD-WAN management and control platform
- SD-WAN edge devices provided on a subscription basis
- Centralised policy configuration and monitoring

- Encrypted overlay networking and traffic optimisation
- Access to the service management portal
- Standard support during business hours

Devices remain the property of FourNet or its technology partners and are provided solely to enable consumption of the SaaS service.

What's Excluded

The following are explicitly excluded from this G-Cloud pricing:

- Network connectivity, circuits, access tails, or bandwidth charges
- Excess usage or carrier-imposed charges
- On-site civil works or structured cabling
- End-user devices

Connectivity may be sourced separately by the customer or via other CCS frameworks.

Mandatory Pricing Notes

- Prices are exclusive of VAT and fixed for the duration of the G-Cloud call-off contract.
- Pricing is subscription-based and charged per site, per month.
- This service is provided under G-Cloud 15 Lot 2b – Cloud Software (SaaS).
- Edge devices are not sold as customer-owned hardware.
- Professional services, onboarding, and enhanced support are available separately.
