Purple Teaming Service

Cybanetix Purple Teaming combines the expertise of red-team penetration testers with blue-team engineers and SOC analysts, for the purpose of validating the effectiveness of a customer's security monitoring functions, and to drive continuous improvement in detection, response, and overall cybersecurity posture.

Purple Teaming engagements are scoped and priced per application, reflecting each customer's specific requirements, security architecture, and agreed deliverables. Engagements consist of a fixed allocation of consultancy days per annum, encompassing red-team and blue-team activities, as well as engineering effort to analyse and remediate identified findings. Standard consultancy rates are outlined below.
