

Bullet Health

Client Data Management System
for Health and Social Care

A Holistic View of Health Delivery

Bullet Health is an innovative, comprehensive client data collection and management system built for public health and social care delivery teams. A central client record allows you to accurately report data about multiple interventions to deliver a holistic view of a population's health or social care needs. This informs service needs, marketing output and delivers trends otherwise not known.

Our mission is to enable public health and social care teams to make informed decisions about the delivery of services

Pricing Information

The commercial model has been developed in partnership with councils, and on their request is based on population numbers. Costs cover the tool with 3-5 modules (interventions) built in, deployment, training, ongoing management, access to dashboards and interfaces for administrators, advisors and use of API for self referrals.

POPULATION	ONBOARDING COST*	ANNUAL LICENSE FEE*	TOTAL Y1	TOTAL Y2

Pricing Notes*

The core license is for the product with a central client record and up to 5 modules (interventions) built in. As an example this could house data supporting delivery of a smoking cessation service, obesity programme, sexual health service, social prescribing, exercise referral and many others. We'll consult with you on your public health or social care delivery, your partners and existing data storage mechanisms.

Changes to core modules or creation of new modules are subject to additional costs, quoted before contracts are agreed. Similarly if additional services are needed to develop specific reports or self referral journeys, then those will be discussed during the initial consultancy and costed up.

Other variable costs such as SMS appointment reminders are included in your annual licence.
