

Electronic Patient Record

Implementation and Advisory Services

The Electronic Patient Record (EPR) Implementation and Advisory Service is a clinically oriented practice dedicated to improving care delivery. We advance the digitisation process, enhance care quality, and optimise clinical, financial and operational value from healthcare technology and EPR investments. We support customers to ensure that technology investments drive better outcomes, improve patient and clinician engagement, and support efficient, safe care delivery.

Optum® offers a unique combination of global and local NHS experience, providing clinical, technical and management expertise to help the NHS with all aspects of EPR services and digital transformation from strategy and business case development through to implementation and optimisation.

The EPR Service is a full-suite, globally enabled capability, offering customers access to comprehensive and highly specialised EPR expertise across multiple vendors and at all stages of EPR strategy, implementation and optimisation.
