

Pulse RPA® – Robotic Process Automation Managed Service

Charging method

The charge is applied per Robot, per year. A “Robot” is one virtual machine environment. The price includes the necessary licence for the Microsoft Power Automate platform and 5 days of “Pulse RPA® Development Days” from the “Cloud Engineering and Support Services” Ascendant Solutions G-Cloud listing priced from £1,200 per day. The service includes maintenance and support for all processes running on the robots purchased including rapid intervention for any urgent issues encountered.

Number of Robots	25/26/27	27/28	28/29	29/30

Recommendations and Notes

Following feedback and analysis from G-Cloud 14 contracts we have increased the number of Developer Days included in the price from 4 to 5. This ensures that sufficient time is available to more proactively upgrade and update automations without the need to procure more development time.

Self-Hosted vs Ascendant Hosted

If for any reason you can't host the service in your infrastructure and would like Ascendant to host the infrastructure for you, a suitable fully licensed Azure Virtual Machine can be deployed at a cost of £1,300 per year.

Bring-your-own-license (BYOL)

For bring-your-own-licence scenarios the Buyer must ensure that the appropriate license is purchased in accordance with Microsoft terms and conditions. Ascendant Solutions accepts no liability for incorrectly licensed products in BYOL scenarios. The correct licence for Pulse RPA® at the time of publishing is “Power Automate Process”. The price from Microsoft is currently $1,800 per annum. Microsoft charge all services in USD, as such, a reduction in the annual license for Pulse RPA® for BYOL will be calculated according to the Foreign Exchange Rate and the price of the licence at the time of Call Off by the Buyer.

Example: The current GBP:USD Foreign Exchange Rate is 1.38 (£1.00 to $1.38). $1,800 in GBP would be a £1,302 discount applied to the Call Off contract, subject to annual adjustments in line with the Licence cost from Microsoft and the GBP USD exchange rate at the point of renewal.

Recommended Onboarding Days – 1

Ascendant’s onboarding team will need to provide 1 onboarding support day, this is to connect our developers to your environment and onboard all required software needed for development. For this pricing addition, see our G-Cloud Service “Cloud Engineering and Support Services”.
