9.5 Termination of this Contract for whatever reason shall not affect or prejudice any of the rights accrued to either party under the Contract up to the date of such termination.

10. ENTIRE AGREEMENT

10.1. The Contract constitutes the entire understanding of the parties in relation to its subject matter and supersedes all prior agreements, negotiations, and arrangements between the parties relating thereto. Each party acknowledges that in entering into this Contract, it does not do so on the basis of, and does not rely on any representation, warranty or other provision not expressly contained in the Contract and all conditions, warranties or other terms implied by statute or common law are hereby excluded to the fullest extent permitted by law.

11.DELIVERABLES

- 11.1. Neither party may assign any of its rights and obligations under the Contract without the prior written consent of the other party.

12.WAIVER

- 12.1. Failure by either party at any time to enforce any of the provisions of the Contract shall not affect the right of such party to require full performance of that provision at any time in the future and the waiver by either party of any breach of a provision of the Contract shall not be taken or held to be a waiver of any subsequent breach thereof.

13.THIRD PARTY RIGHTS

- 13.1. A person who is not a party to the Contract has no right under the Contracts (Rights of Third Parties) Act 1999 to enforce any term of the Contract but this does not affect any right or remedy of a third party which exists or is available apart from that Act.

14.CONFIDENTIALITY

- 14.1. All information relating to the Client which shall come into the hands of the Supplier throughout the duration of the Contract, including but not limited to the details of the Contract itself, shall be deemed confidential ("the Confidential Information"). The Supplier agrees and undertakes and shall procure that its Associates agree and undertake not, without the prior written consent of the owner of the Confidential Information, to use or disclose any such Confidential Information save as necessary for the performance of the Deliverables unless such Confidential Information becomes public knowledge otherwise than as a result of a breach of this clause; is rightfully in the possession of the Supplier or the Associate and was rightfully in their possession prior to the negotiations leading to the Contract; is received by the Supplier or the Associate from a third party without obligations of confidentiality or where such use or disclosure is required by law.
- 14.2. The Supplier agrees to enter into and will procure that the Associates enter into any non-disclosure or confidentiality agreement that the Client shall require.
- 14.3. The foregoing obligations of confidentiality shall survive termination of the Contract.
- 14.3.1. All documents, manuals, hardware and software provided for the Supplier's or the Associates' use by the Client, and any data or documents (including copies) produced, maintained or stored on the Client's computer systems or other electronic equipment (including mobile phones if provided by the Client), remain the property of the Client.

15. NOTICES

- 15.1. All notices which are required to be given hereunder shall be in writing and shall be sent to the address of the party upon whom the notice is to be served as set out in these Terms or as subsequently notified by that party to the other. Any such notice may be delivered personally or by first class prepaid post or email transmission and shall be deemed to have been served if by hand when delivered, if by first class post, 48 hours after posting and if by email transmission when the sender's machine confirms successful transmission (for example, a read receipt is received).

16. ILLEGALITY

- 16.1. If any provision or term of the Contract shall become or be declared illegal, invalid or unenforceable for any reason whatsoever including, but without limitation, by reason of the provisions of any legislation or other provisions having the force of law or by reason of any decision of any Court or other body or authority having jurisdiction over the parties, such term or provision shall be divisible from the Contract and the remainder of the terms and provisions shall continue in full force and effect provided always that if any such deletion substantially affects or alters the commercial basis of the Contract, the parties shall negotiate in good faith to amend or modify the provisions and terms of the Contract as necessary or desirable in the circumstances.

17. FORCE MAJEURE

- 17.1. Neither party shall be liable to the other in respect of any period during which the Supplier is unable to perform a Deliverable due to circumstances beyond its reasonable control and the performance of the relevant Deliverable(s) shall be suspended during such period. In the event that the Supplier is unable to resume performance of the Deliverables within 2 weeks of the commencement of such suspension, the Client shall be entitled to terminate the relevant Contract on giving to the Supplier one (1) week's prior written notice.

18. GOVERNING LAW AND JURISDICTION

- 18.1. These Terms and all Contracts are governed by and shall be construed in accordance with the law of England & Wales and the parties submit to the exclusive jurisdiction of the Courts of England & Wales.
