

Strategy, Planning and Implementation Service

Safehaus Group can support organisations in developing strategy for moving to or optimising use of Cloud, to align with organisational priorities, including business case development, planning and management of the move to cloud services and Operating Model review.

As part of our service, we can provide:

- Operating Model design
- Business Case support and development
- Aligning cloud strategy to business priorities
- Implementation planning and management
- Operating Model and Supply Chain review

To develop the most effective plan for your implementation of cloud services we will assess business requirements and map against cloud delivery options. From this we will develop plans covering the delivery lifecycle and migration to cloud, including planning and management of the sourcing and procurement and the business case development. We can then continue to support through management of cloud implementation and migration.

We will assist in supply chain and organisational migration to cloud services or between cloud services, to include: - opportunity analysis - planning - implementation - mobilisation - assurance

We can review your current strategy and delivery approach to advise on improvements assessed against current industry best practice and Government Standards.

Through delivery of the service, we will:

- ensuring Cloud Strategy delivers business benefits
- help you prepare to exploit cloud strategy
- increase supplier and organisational efficiency
- Up-skill Client teams
- enable clear supplier and Market Engagement
