

Food and Manufacturing

Content that keeps you moving

In food and drink manufacturing, there's no room for guesswork.

Your people need clear, compliant, up-to-date learning they can access fast — whether they're on the factory floor, in logistics or leading teams.

That's why we've created a content suite built for the world of manufacturing. The Food & Drink Manufacturing Sector Suite helps you train your workforce, meet industry regulations and build confident, capable teams. From HACCP and food safety to teamwork, leadership and mental wellbeing, every resource is designed to make an impact — right where work happens.

Why manufacturing teams choose Thrive Content

Content mapped to your goals

You'll never navigate the library alone. Brief us and we'll map the right content to your programmes, initiatives or campaigns.

Premade pathways

Save time with ready-to-go pathways tailored to manufacturing, including safety, operations, soft skills and supervisor development.

Content requests

Spotted a gap? Tell us. We'll feed your request into our roadmap and prioritise new content that benefits your learners and the wider Thrive community.

Campaigns that make an impact

Raise awareness on critical topics like food hygiene, quality control and mental health with campaign-ready content and creative extras.

All the formats your people love

From bite-sized video explainers and animated SCORMs, to TikToks, guides, podcasts and quizzes — you'll never be stuck with boring again.

Designed for Impact

From safety and compliance to leadership on the line, Thrive Content helps manufacturing teams upskill quickly, consistently and confidently. It's mobile-friendly, built for the frontline, and ready whenever your people are — no matter the shift..

"They have been so collaborative. It doesn't feel like you're just a customer; you are on their journey, they are on your journey. Nothing is too much trouble."
