We provide the ability to map both short-term and medium to long-term risks through our unique functionality and tooling, allowing you to accurately predict and mitigate potential future financial losses.

Company Watch provides access to financial analytics solutions either through the web portal or via API integration.

Pricing for the web portal is based on the number of companies required and the subscription package selected – either Bronze, Silver or Gold. Standard coverage of the web portal is for UK companies, but can also include the Irish database.

Pricing: Web Portal

Number of Companies (up to)	Bronze	Silver	Gold
1,000	£3,613	£4,696	£6,340

Unlimited users at a given site	£118,802	£154,443	£200,775

Pricing for the API is based on volume of the subscription packages of Bronze, Silver or Gold. There are 2 price models depending on the use case.

Pricing: REST API

Per call model: A unit rate (see table below) is charged per company endpoint on a daily basis. If you make one or more calls to the endpoint for Company A on 1st

January, it's counted as a single view. If you make one or more calls to the endpoint for Company A on 2nd January, it's counted as a single view and a unit rate charged again.

For the scoring API, customers can submit financial statement data that is not in the public domain (for instance, management accounts, business forecasts or "what-if" scenarios) and generate Company Watch scores and analytics in a secure environment.

Example:

Customer makes 500 API calls per year under the Bronze subscription. The price would be:

$$£2,500 + (£1.81 \times 500) = £3,405 \text{ per annum}$$

API licence fee: £2,500 per annum

Usage charges:

	Bronze (unit rates)	Silver (unit rates)	Gold (unit rates)	Scoring API (unit rates)
Volume	API call per company	API call per company	API call per company	API call per company
0-999	£1.81	£2.35	£3.17	£2.13

200000+	£0.17	£0.23	£0.31	£0.20

Example:

$$£2,500 + (£6.80 \times 1,000) = £9,300 \text{ per annum}$$
