

Corsano™ Multi-parameter Wearable Pricing

Commercial Options

The Corsano™ Multi-Parameter Wearable is a wireless remote monitoring intended for continuous collection of physiological data in home and healthcare settings. Data is collected by the wrist-worn wearable device, transmitted wirelessly from the device via the application to the cloud where doctors and HCPs can monitor patients with the data via the Corsano Web Portal. The Corsano wearable seamlessly integrates with any EPR through secure data transmission. Data is encrypted end-to-end at all stages of transmission, ensuring complete security from device to mobile to EPR.

Medtronic is pleased to be able to offer flexible payment options to enable access to Corsano™ Multi-Parameter Wearable. These are as follows, subscription, capital (up-front one-time payment) or Mix for the contract term. Please contact your Medtronic Account Manager with your specific requirements.

Example pricing is given in the table below based on different procurement models for two years. This price is inclusive of hardware, core training, and ongoing technical support. Details are outlined in the table. All pricing information is quoted in pounds sterling (GBP), excluding VAT.
