SERVICE DEFINITION

ARAS Innovator

INTRODUCTION

Decillion Digital specialises in Aras Innovator PLM, a low-code, open-architecture platform that adapts seamlessly to complex engineering environments. We tailor the solution to unique business processes while preserving upgrade compatibility. Our services span BOM management, change-control workflows, digital thread integration, and quality management—delivering flexible, scalable product lifecycle management across the enterprise.

SERVICE FEATURES

- Manage complex Bills of Materials (BOMs) across multi-level product structures.
- Automate engineering change processes (ECR/ECO) with robust, configurable workflows.
- Establish a Digital Thread to connect data seamlessly across the entire product lifecycle.
- Control configurations, variations, and revision histories with precise governance.
- Integrate quality management with embedded risk analysis tools such as FMEA.
- Leverage model-based architecture for intuitive visual organisation of product data.
- Benefit from open-architecture, enterprise-grade PLM with guaranteed upgrade paths.
- Build custom applications quickly using Aras Innovator's low-code development environment.
- Track sustainability metrics, including carbon footprint and supplier-audit data.
- Connect requirements, design, engineering, and manufacturing data into a unified ecosystem.

SERVICE BENEFITS

- Deliver customisable PLM solutions tailored to each organisation's specific processes and requirements.
- Maximise utilisation and agility of the PLM environment through scalable, modern architecture.
- Reduce overall PLM operating costs with efficient configuration and streamlined workflows.
- Enable fast, scalable deployment of digital lifecycle services across engineering teams.
- Continuously optimise applications to support high-volume, big-data engineering use cases.
- Enhance both customer and developer experience through intuitive, well-designed interfaces.
- Improve team satisfaction with tools that simplify collaboration and reduce manual effort.
- Shorten product time-to-market by accelerating change, approval, and release cycles.
- Increase visibility and control across the entire product lifecycle with unified data.
- Guarantee upgradeability even with customisations, thanks to Aras Innovator's resilient architecture.
