Cloud Programme, Portfolio, And Delivery Governance

This category addresses the challenge of governing cloud initiatives at scale without slowing delivery or obscuring accountability. Buyers typically struggle with fragmented ownership, overlapping initiatives, supplier dependency, and weak visibility of progress, risk, and benefits.

We establish proportionate governance models that integrate programme management, portfolio oversight, and delivery assurance. Our focus is on enabling decision-making, managing dependencies, and maintaining control across complex, multi-supplier environments, rather than introducing heavyweight process.

Clients benefit from improved predictability, clearer accountability, and stronger confidence at senior level. Cloud programmes remain aligned to strategic intent, funding constraints, and operational readiness, while retaining the flexibility needed for iterative delivery.

Cloud Service Design And Transition Planning

Cloud Programme,
Portfolio, and Delivery
Governance

This service supports the controlled transition of cloud services from delivery into live operation. Wiz Digital designs cloud services and defines transition activities to ensure services are operationally ready, supported, and governed before go-live, aligning with public sector service management and assurance expectations.

Service Overview

- Design of cloud services and service models
- Definition of service lifecycle and support arrangements
- Transition and handover planning
- Clarification of roles and responsibilities
- Operational readiness assessment
- Integration with incident, change, and support processes
- Coordination of suppliers and support teams
- Definition of service acceptance criteria
- Identification and management of transition risks
- Clear service design and transition documentation

Service Features

- Reduced risk during service transition
- Improved operational readiness at go-live
- Clear accountability for cloud services
- Better coordination between delivery and operations
- Reduced likelihood of early-life service issues
- Improved service stability and performance
- Stronger governance during transition
- Clear expectations for support teams
- More predictable service outcomes
- Smoother adoption of cloud services
