Cloud Security, Risk, And Assurance

This category supports organisations operating under heightened security, regulatory, or public accountability requirements. Buyers often need to balance innovation with assurance, without defaulting to risk-averse stagnation.

We embed security and risk management into cloud design and operations, rather than treating them as bolt-ons. Our services cover architecture, controls, assurance activities, and audit readiness, aligned to recognised standards and government expectations.

The outcome is improved security posture, clearer risk ownership, and stronger assurance for stakeholders. Clients are able to move faster with confidence, supported by evidence-based controls and defensible security decisions.

Data Protection And Encryption Design

Cloud Security, Risk, and Assurance

This service supports organisations in protecting data within cloud environments through effective encryption and data protection design. Wiz Digital defines encryption strategies, key management considerations, and protection controls that safeguard sensitive data while aligning with organisational security policies and public sector regulatory expectations.

Service Overview

- Design of cloud data protection architectures
- Definition of encryption approaches for data at rest
- Definition of encryption approaches for data in transit
- Key management and rotation considerations
- Integration with cloud-native security services
- Sensitive data protection and handling controls
- Alignment with regulatory and compliance obligations
- Assessment of data protection risks and threats
- Validation of protection design
- Clear documentation of data protection standards

Service Features

- Improved protection of sensitive and regulated data
- Reduced risk of unauthorised data access
- Stronger compliance with data protection regulations
- Consistent and auditable encryption approaches
- Increased confidence in cloud data security
- Reduced likelihood of data security incidents
- Clear guidance for delivery teams
- Improved audit and assurance confidence
- Better alignment with organisational security policies
- Sustainable foundation for secure cloud data usage
