Adobe Experience Manager (AEM) to Drupal Migration

Breaking the Adobe Lock-in. Enterprise Power, Zero Fees.

The Savings

Eliminate High Costs

JCR/Sling Mapping

The Assurance

Diamond Partner

Migrating from AEM to Drupal to regain control of your budget.

- 1 Strategic Decoupling. Shift from a "black box" to open standards. Our Acquia-certified architects assess your AEM repositories (JCR), component structure, Sling models, and workflow configurations to establish a clear migration path. Early technical evaluation prevents data loss and identifies functionality gaps, ensuring your transition removes licensing barriers whilst maintaining operational capabilities. We preserve the granular control editors love, but on a platform where you own the code.
- 2 Content is systematically transformed. From JCR hierarchical storage to Drupal's flexible entity and field system, bespoke migration scripts handle pages, assets, taxonomies, and relationships whilst preserving URL structures and SEO rankings. AEM functionality is mapped to Drupal module equivalents, with custom development where required to maintain existing capabilities.
- 3 Predictability & Scale. Eliminate unpredictable subscription costs. With Drupal (GPL), you gain unlimited administrator accounts and Innovation Freedom. We use URL preservation to maintain SEO, trading vendor lock-in for a sustainable, community-driven future.

Digital Experience Platform with Drupal

DXP is the foundation for all our digital solutions. Built on the widely adopted enterprise open source framework Drupal, it contains all the necessary functionality to create exceptional user experiences.

DXP was created with scalability and extensibility in mind. All fundamental challenges like roles, permissions, editorial experience, flexible content, multiple languages, search, API abstraction etc. are fully solved. This extensive functionality can be customised to your needs and the resulting solution can be used for various your projects of yours with rapid time to launch. Rest assured our DXP retains the same Open Source licensing as Drupal.

CMS solutions that add value to your business

Outstanding editorial experience

The CMS solution provides an outstanding editorial experience with a user-friendly drag-and-drop interface and intuitive design.

Unique and consistent brand experience

It comes with an integrated design system powered by reusable components that allows you to create a consistent and unified brand experience across all touchpoints.

Streamlined workflow and collaboration

It provides an extensible set of user roles, permissions and custom workflows.

Modular and scalable architecture

Its API-driven technology helps you to easily integrate it with any other systems such as PIM, DAM, Intranet or E-commerce, and any IT environment.

Enterprise-grade security

It offers enterprise-grade security to keep your website safe from data breaches and DDoS attacks.

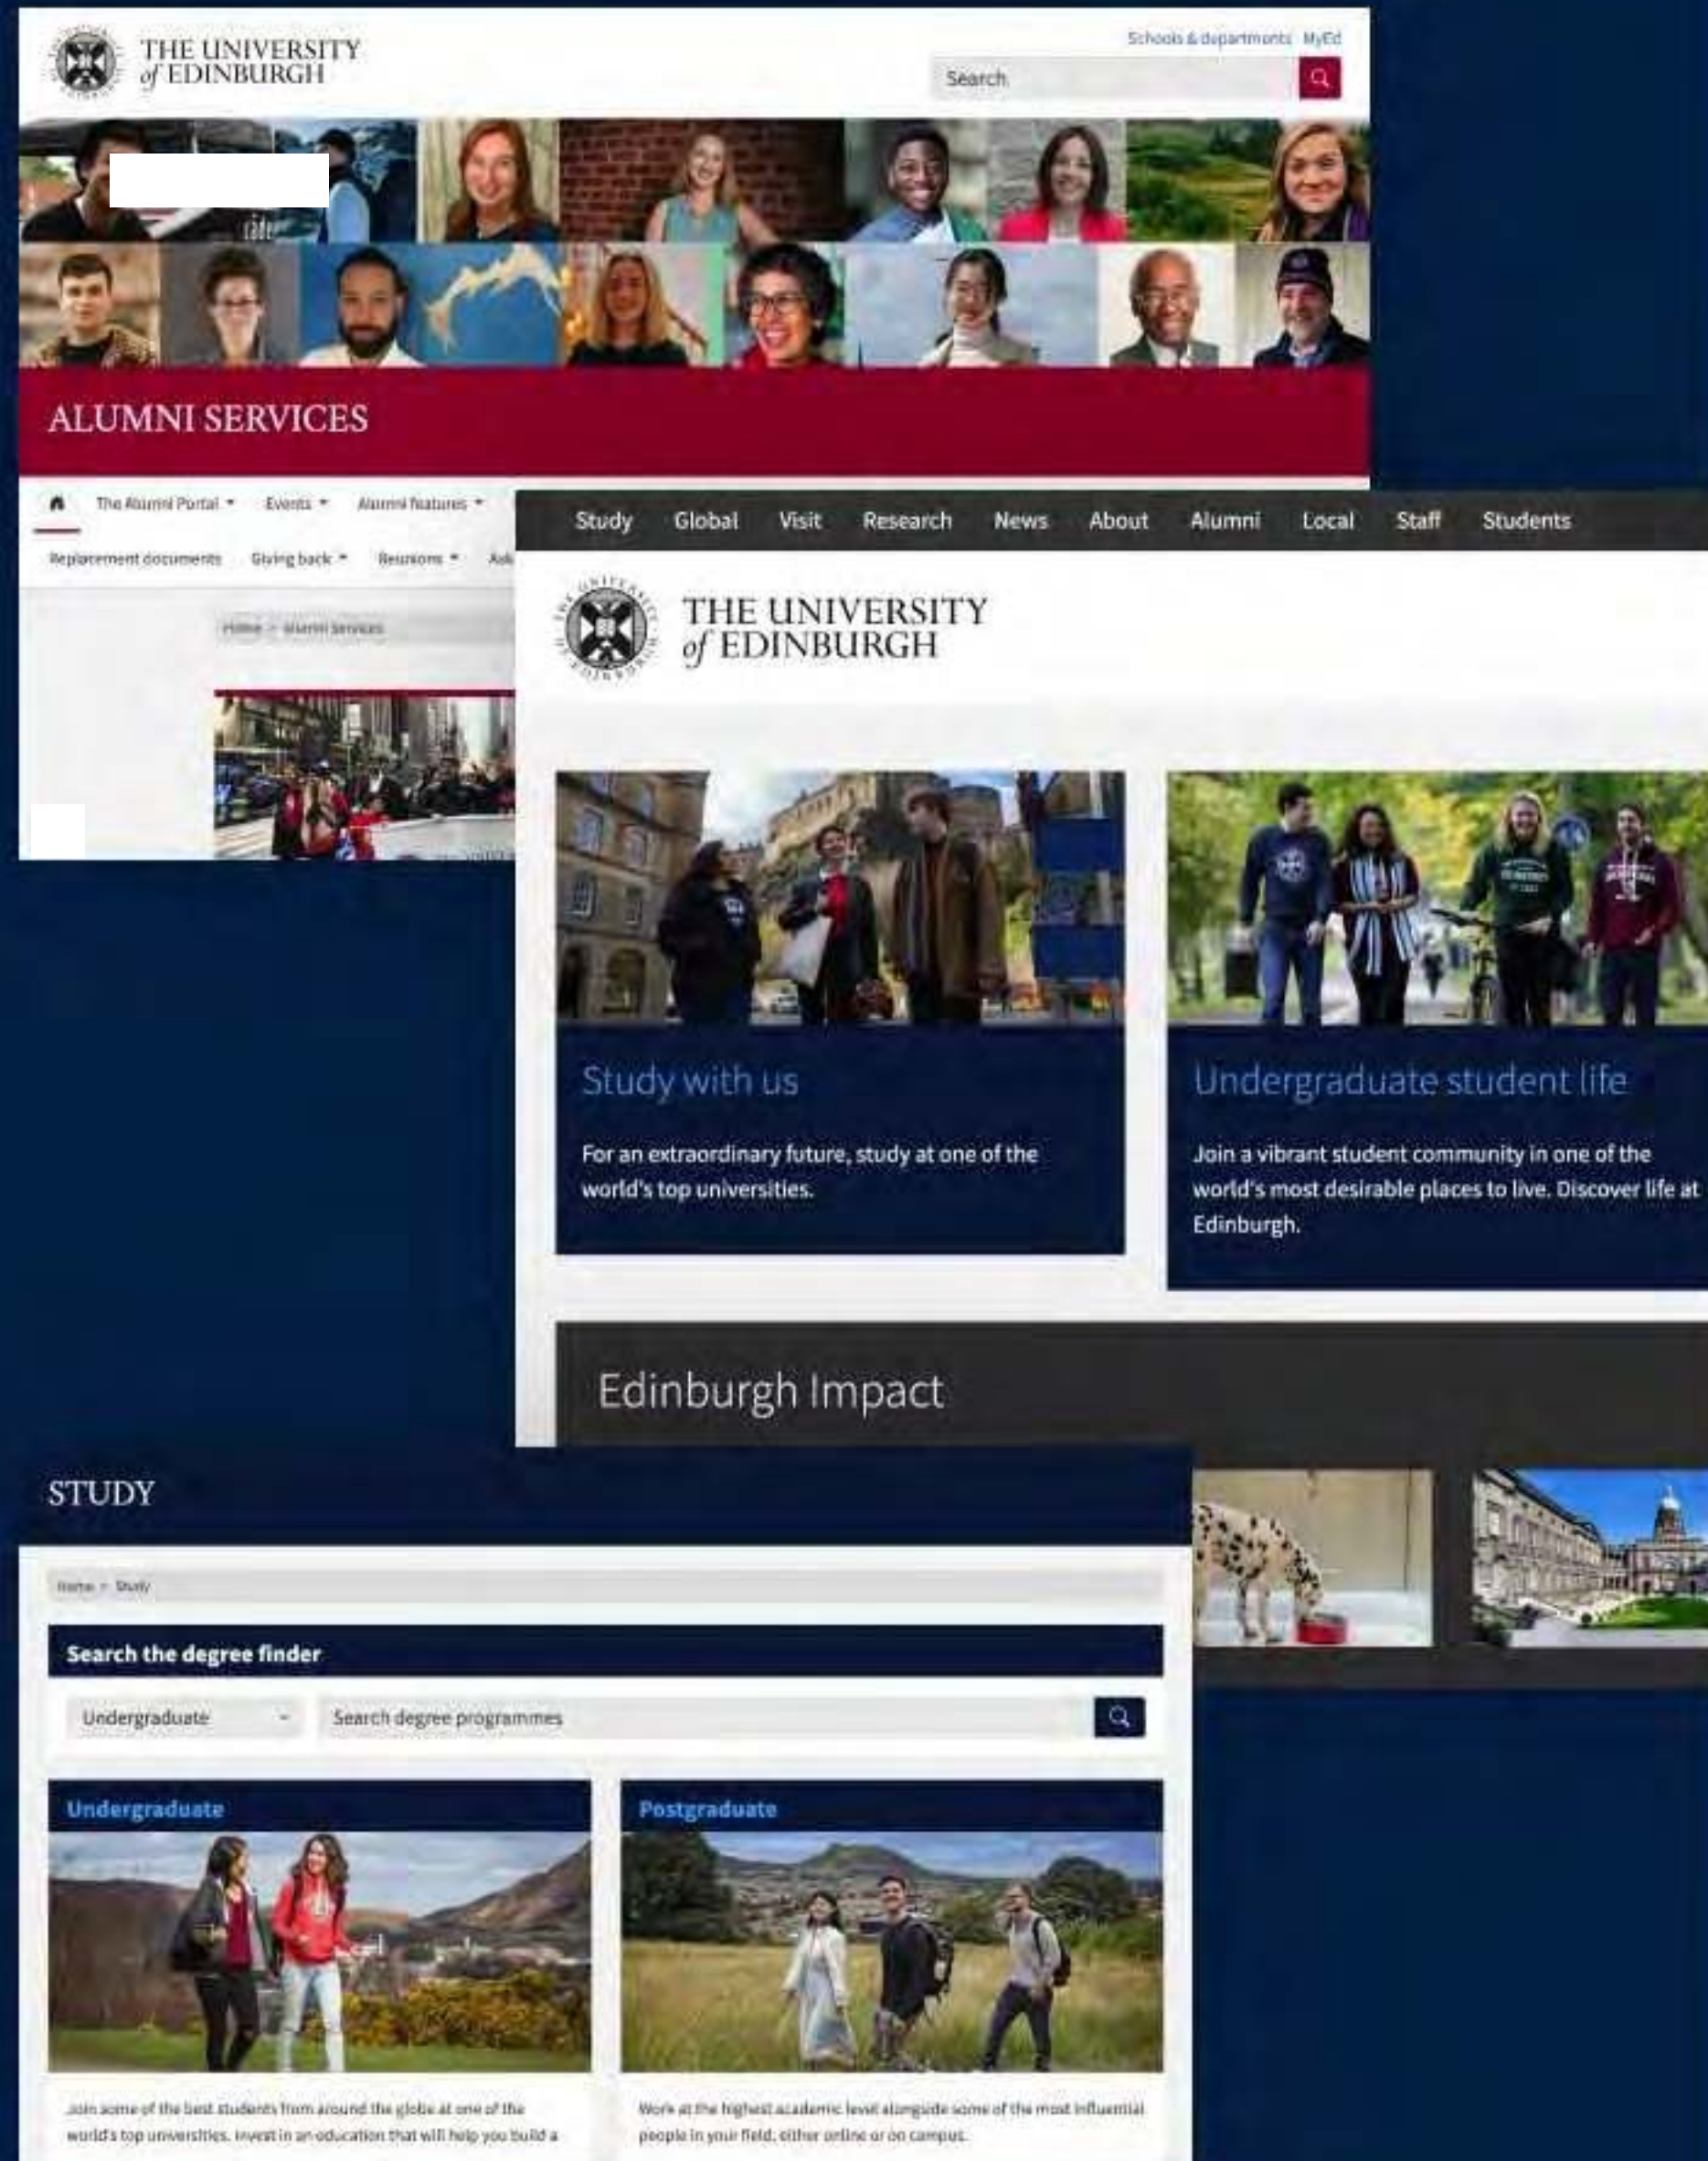

Drupal AI Initiative founder

In June 2025, Dries announced a new strategic initiative focused on establishing a clear strategy and shared vision. The initiative is backed by a fully funded delivery team, $120,000 in operational funding, and active work streams across AI Core, Products, Marketing, and UX.

1xINTERNET plays a central role, with Baddy, Paul, and Christoph in leadership positions, two senior developers contributing full time, and a financial contribution of $20,000.

I want to thank the founding members of the Drupal AI Initiative. These individuals and organizations played a key role in getting things off the ground.

Higher Education

University of Edinburgh

Challenge

The University of Edinburgh sought external validation of their new Drupal platform and specialist consultancy to collaborate with leadership on a strategic vision for ongoing investment.

Solution

A technical assessment of the Drupal architecture and practices was completed, evaluating security, GDPR compliance, accessibility, performance, and editorial experience. In-person workshops with key stakeholders enabled understanding of strategic business objectives and the digital estate's role in delivering these, ensuring recommendations aligned with institutional priorities.

Highlights

An innovative approach was taken to the audit and consultancy process. While a formal documentation report was provided, GitLab was also used to create actionable tasks, enabling the team to immediately begin implementing recommendations. Realtime prototyping was introduced alongside this, allowing for the rapid testing and validation of ideas as they emerged.

Non-profit

World Cancer Day

Challenge

World Cancer Day is an annual event which aims to raise cancer awareness globally. To support this, the website needs to ensure seamless performance during the high traffic spikes in the lead up to and during World Cancer Day.

Solution

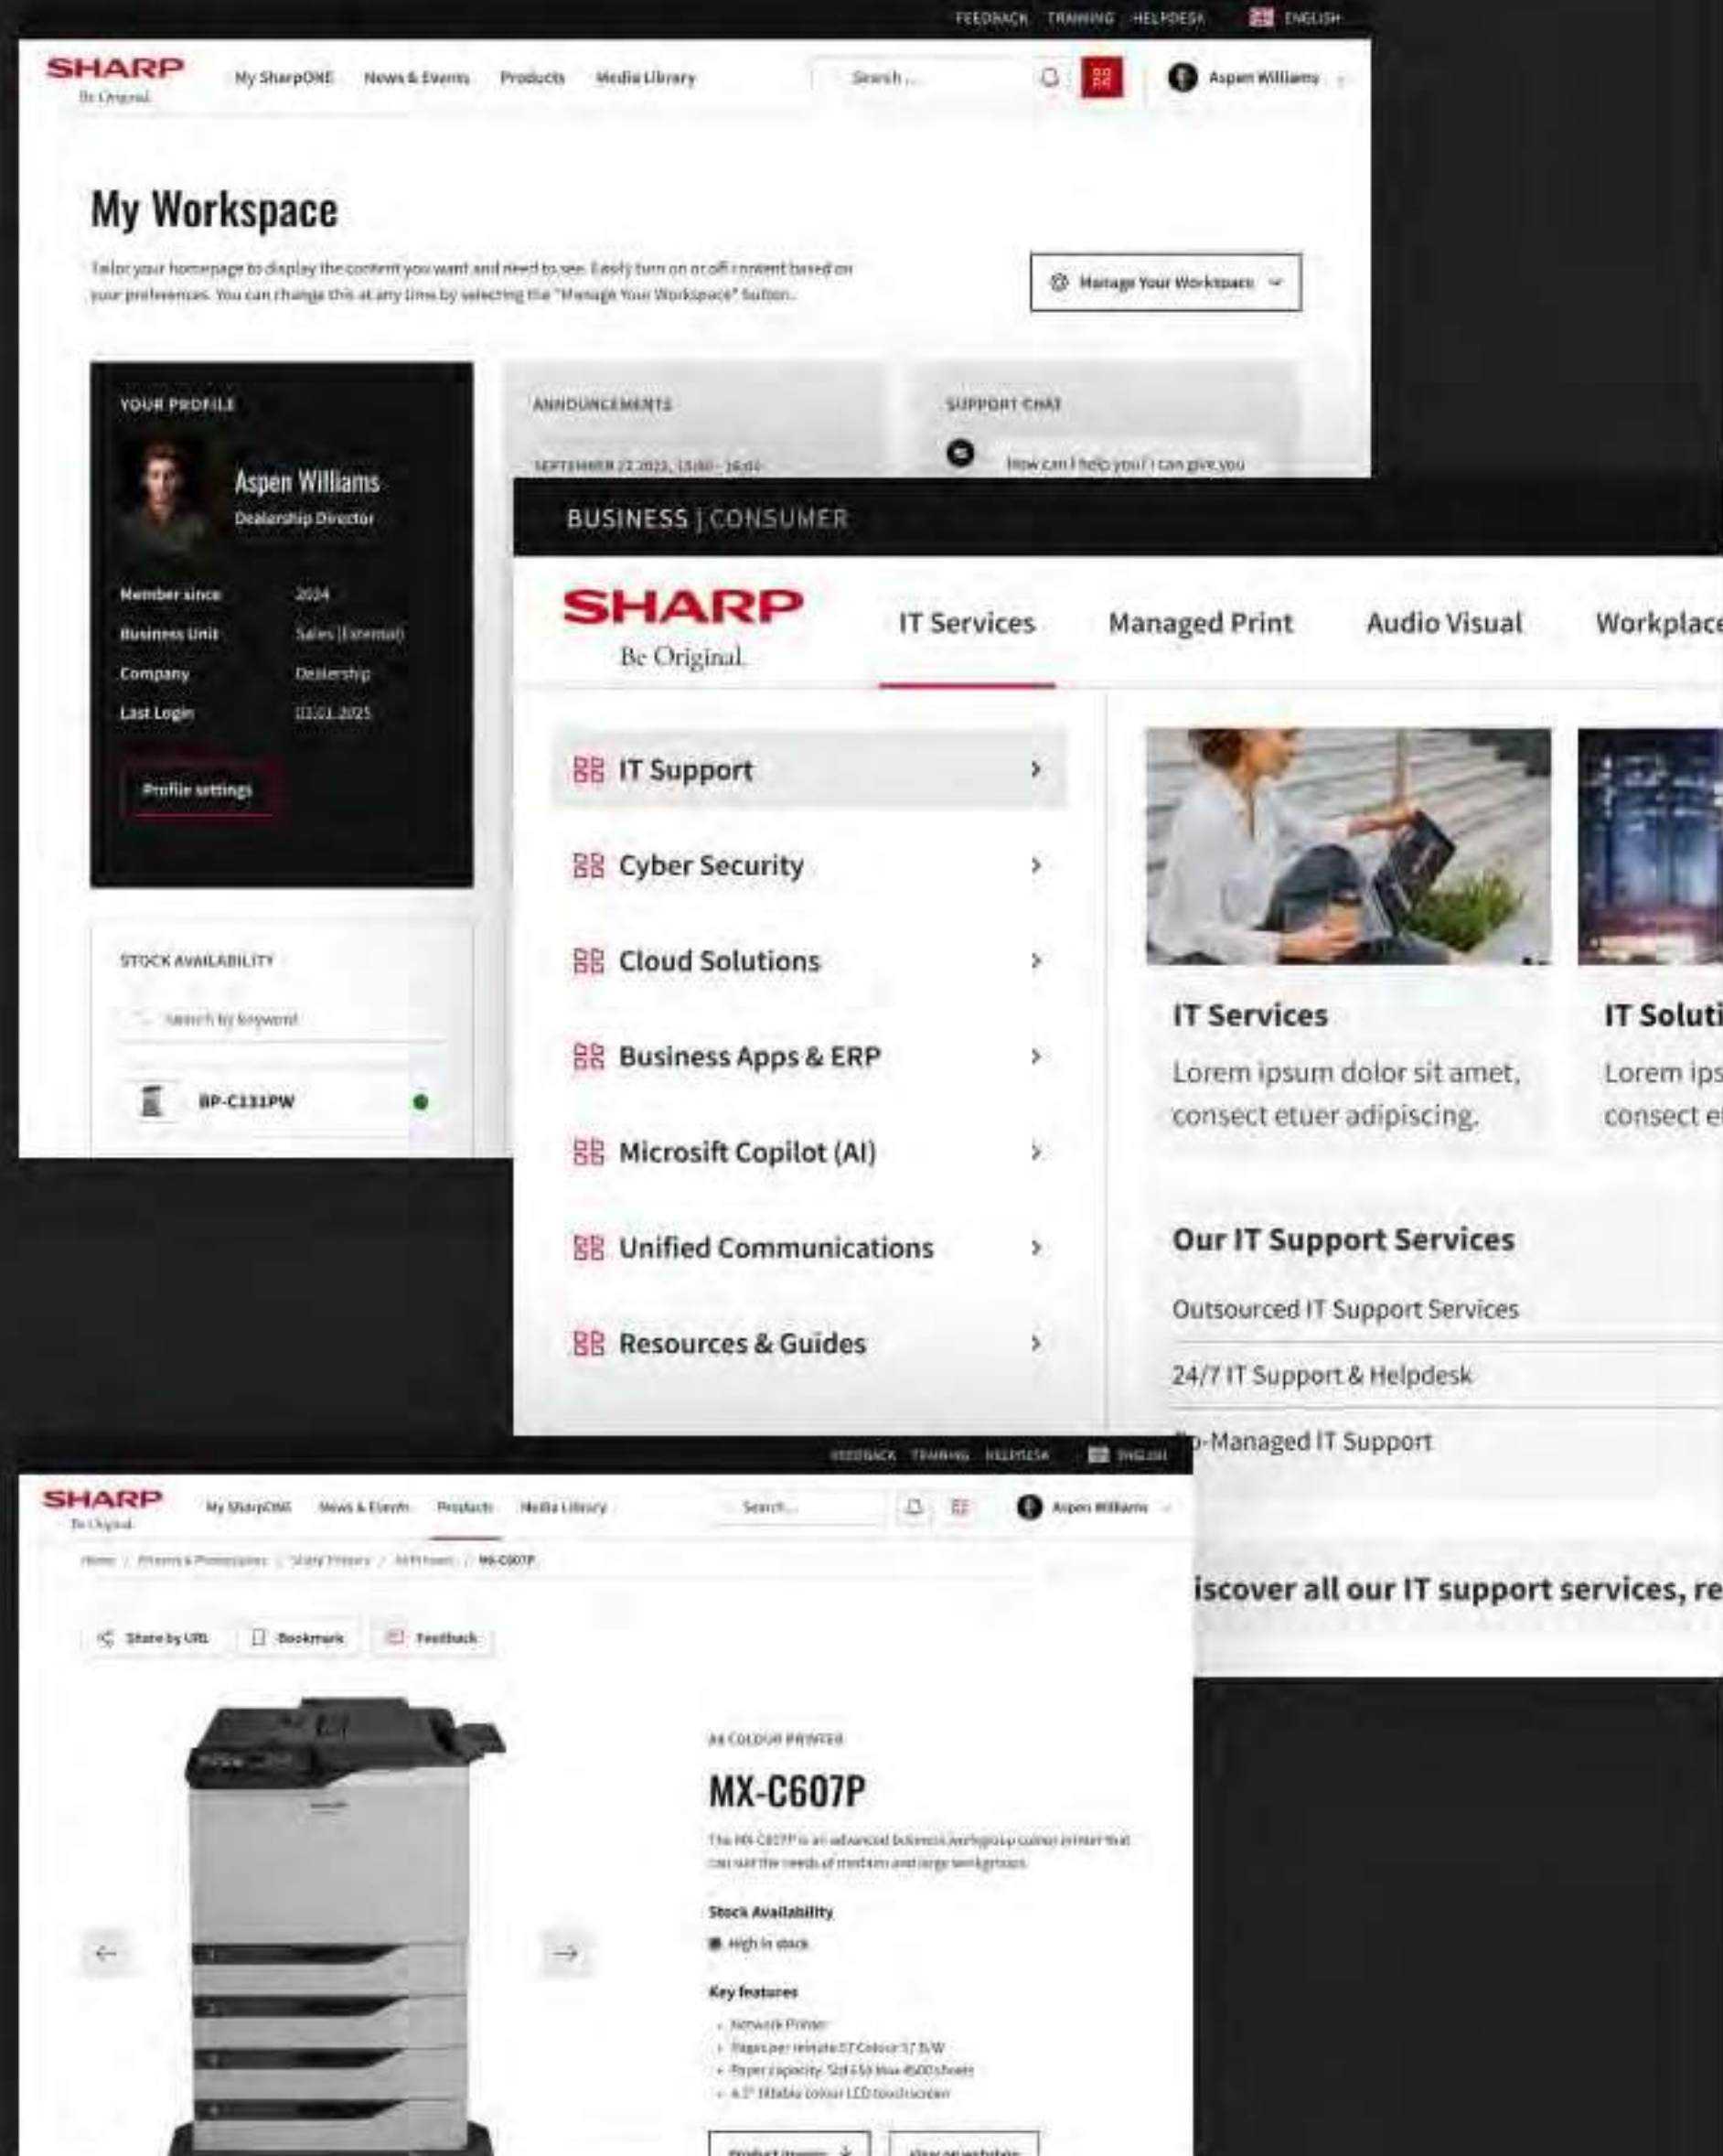

A globally distributed, scalable hosting solution handles high volumes of traffic and multiple simultaneous requests during peak times. A fresh new accessible design enhances engagement with website visitors from all over the world.

Highlights

A modern design, accessible content for global users and interactive features like the custom poster tool, events planner, and interactive map enhance user engagement. Robust hosting guarantees a seamless experience during peak traffic on World Cancer Day.

Technology

SharpONE Platform

Challenge

Challenge Sharp Europe's digital presence was fragmented and aging, struggling to serve 120,000 enterprise customers across 48 countries. They needed to replace a legacy martech stack that was "past its sell-by date" with a secure, unified platform capable of handling complex B2B journeys, while simultaneously launching a new global brand identity.

Solution

We took over support and maintenance, stabilizing the existing estate before executing a strategic evolution. We implemented Sharp's new brand identity across 17 multilingual sites and built a dedicated support hub from scratch, migrating legacy data seamlessly. Most recently, we launched an advanced partner portal integrating deeply with their DAM, PIM, CRM, and AI tools to streamline partner operations.

Highlights

We successfully unified 17 multilingual sites serving 48 markets, ensuring a seamless transition for 120,000 customers. This partnership culminated in the launch of SharpONE, a bespoke partner portal integrating DAM, PIM, and CRM systems that proved far more cost-effective and flexible than rigid proprietary alternatives.

Government

City of Reykjavík

Challenge

The City faced a fragmented digital estate with key sites on a legacy Drupal version. The architecture was overly complex, with 50+ content types and 20,000+ nodes, making management difficult and migration risky.

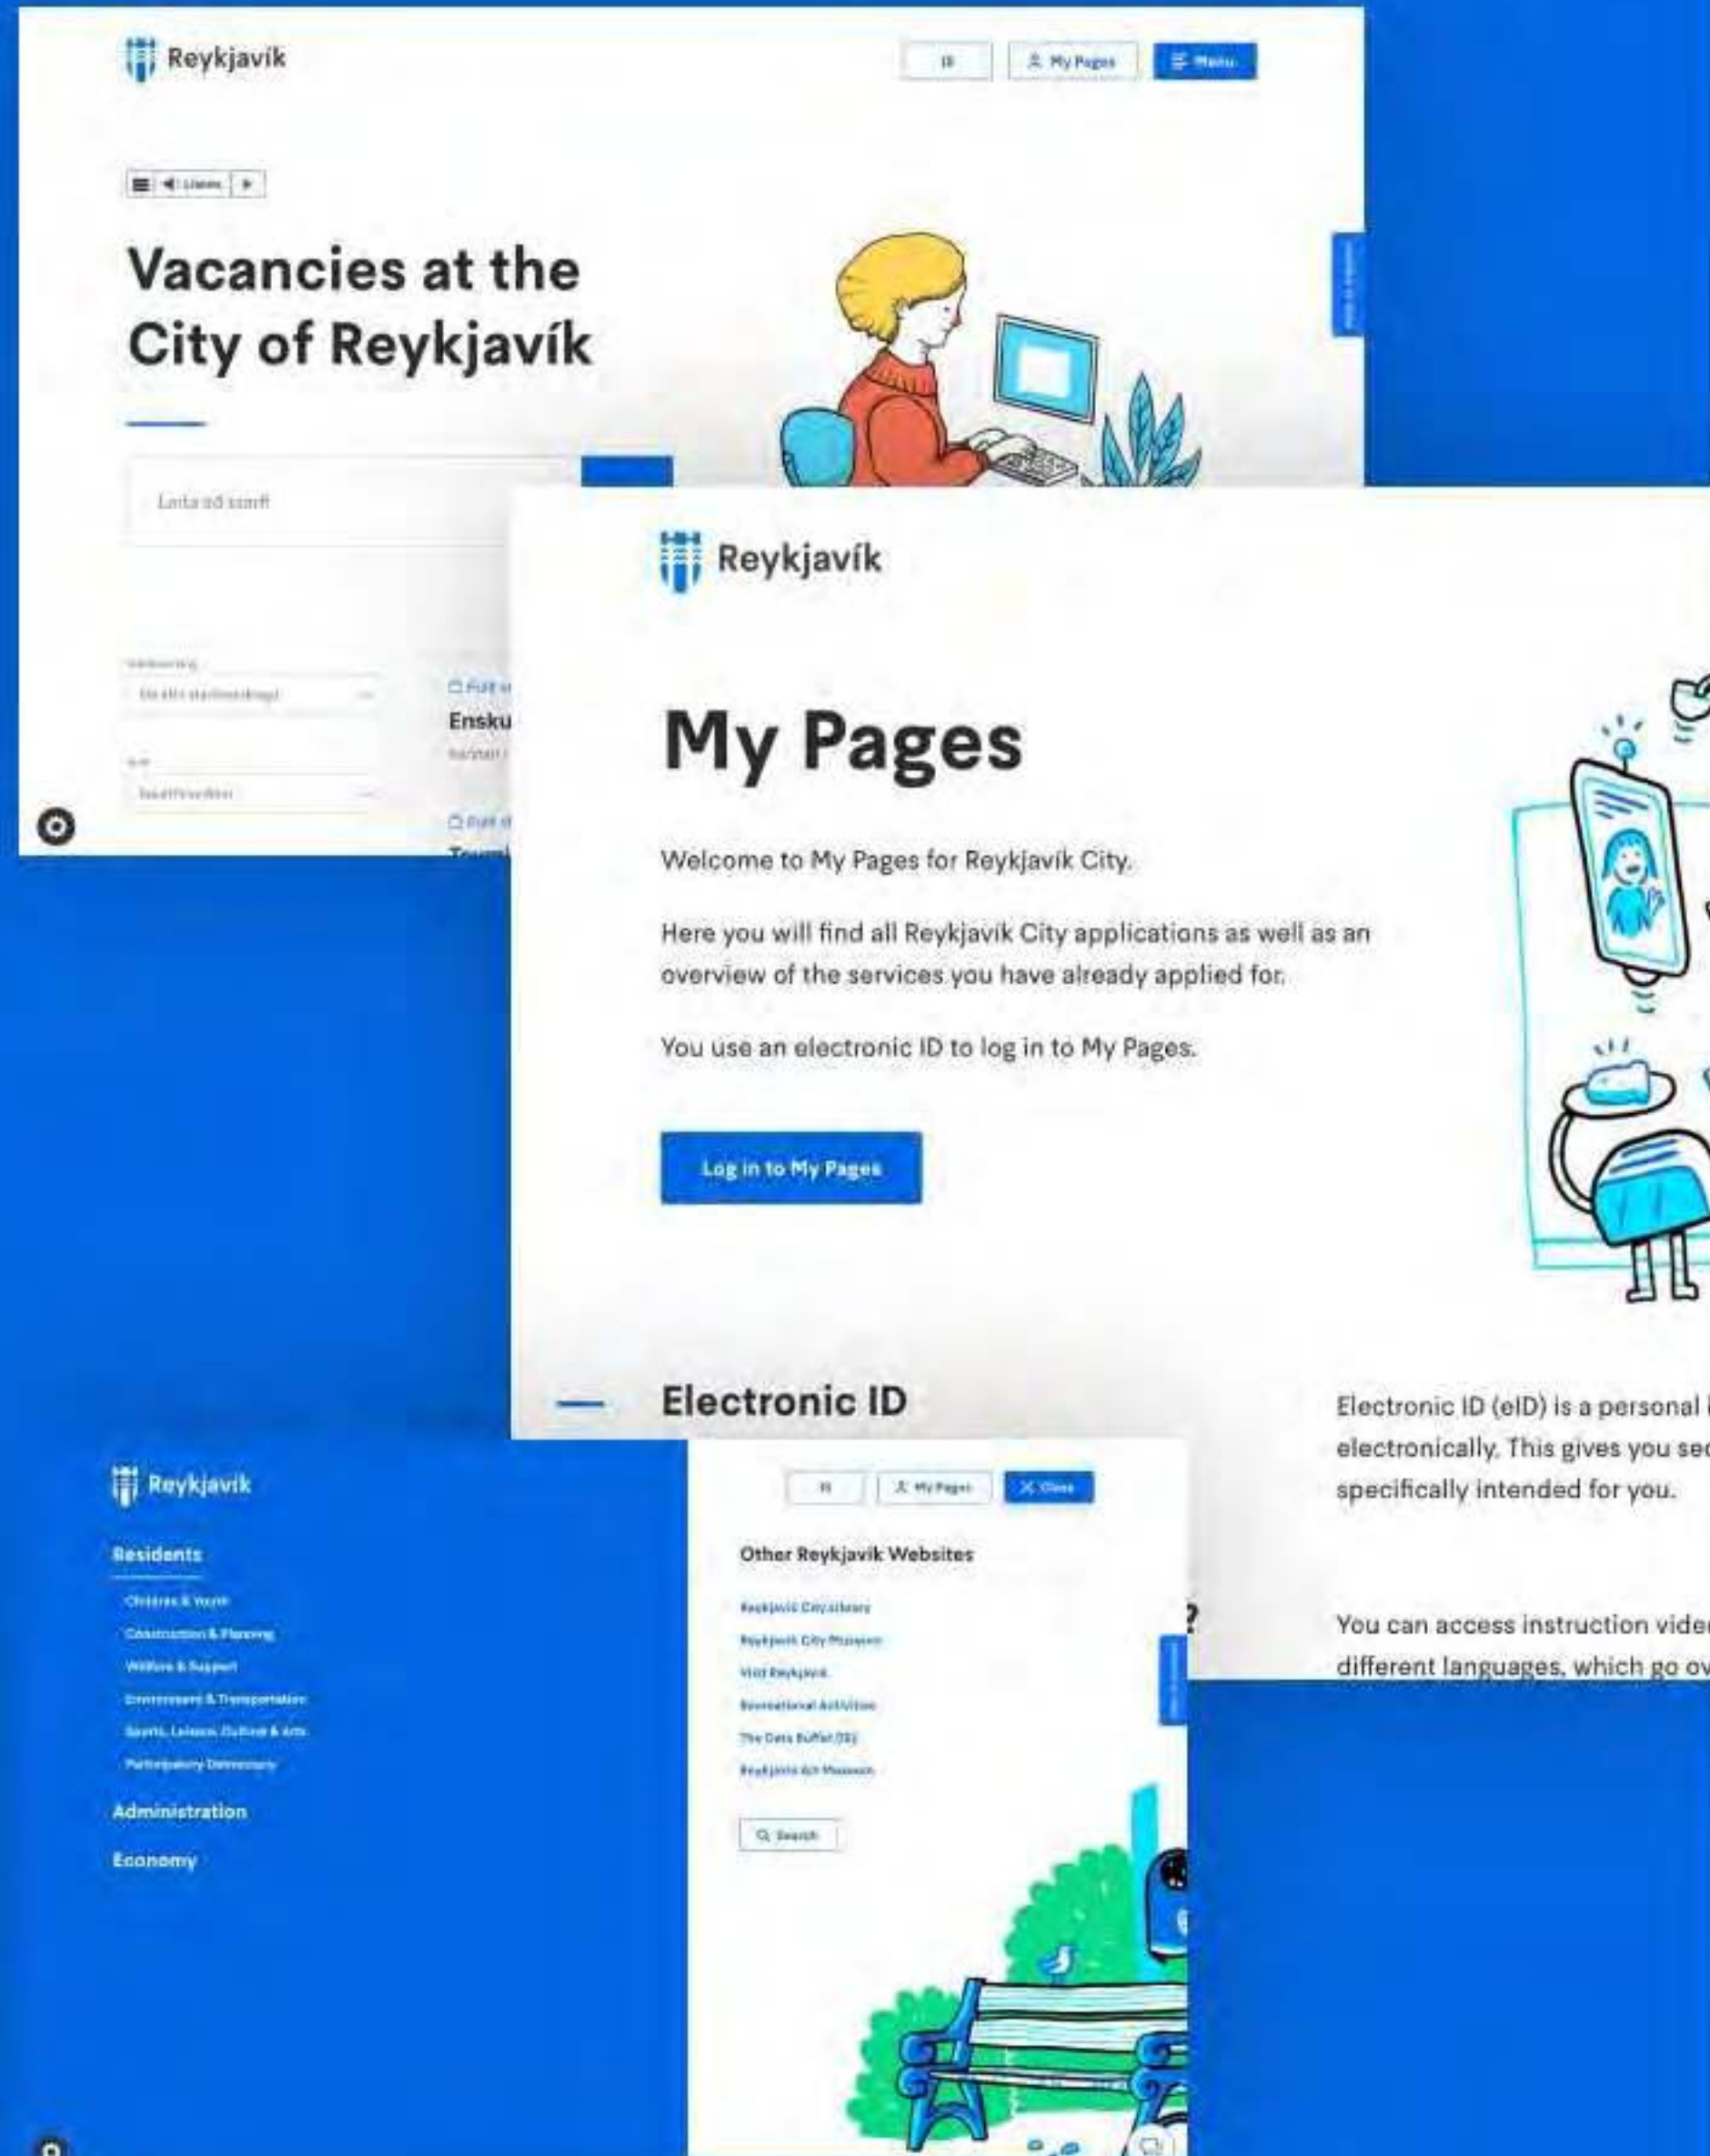

Solution

We executed a strategic migration to modern Drupal for the Intranet, Tourism portal (visitreykjavik.is), and main City website. We overhauled the content strategy, consolidating 50 content types into 10, and built custom integrations for the City's council meeting records system.

Highlights

We successfully migrated 20,000+ nodes with zero data loss while reducing content types by 80% to drastically simplify governance. The new platform delivers a streamlined experience for diverse editor teams and provides seamless integration with legacy committee systems, unifying the city's digital services.
