Service Title: Business Continuity and Disaster Recovery aaS

Service Description:

Wuluf Ltd conducts a structured three-month Business Impact Analysis (BIA) designed to identify critical business processes, assess the impact of potential disruptions, and quantify both operational and financial consequences. Our service includes dependency mapping across people, technology, suppliers, and facilities, as well as detailed analysis of Recovery Time Objectives (RTOs) and Recovery Point Objectives (RPOs). We provide clear, actionable recommendations and a comprehensive written report to strengthen organisational business continuity planning and support informed decision-making at senior levels.

Wuluf Ltd also delivers Disaster Recovery Planning services to ensure the rapid restoration of critical systems following disruptions. Over a three-month engagement, our approach includes thorough risk assessment, the design of pragmatic and resilient recovery strategies, and the alignment of these strategies with defined RTO and RPO requirements.

We develop detailed runbooks for infrastructure, applications, and cloud environments, enabling IT teams to execute consistent and effective recovery activities. This service enhances organisational readiness and supports robust business continuity capabilities.

Pricing is for a three-month package.

Wuluf Ltd develops tailored Incident Response Plans that ensure rapid detection, containment, and recovery from cyber incidents. This service includes threat modelling, escalation pathways, communication protocols, and integration with existing security technologies and governance structures. All plans are aligned with recognised industry standards such as NIST and ISO 27035. The result is a clear, structured, and repeatable response capability that reduces impact during high-pressure events. Pricing is for a 20-day package delivered by a principal consultant.

Wuluf Ltd delivers Crisis Management Simulations to evaluate and strengthen organisational readiness for high-impact incidents. These simulations are designed around realistic, sector-specific scenarios that test leadership decision-making, communication effectiveness, escalation workflows, and cross-department coordination.

Our service helps organisations identify capability gaps, improve executive confidence, and build a resilient crisis management framework that performs reliably under pressure. Comprehensive debriefs and improvement recommendations are included to support continuous development of crisis readiness.
