Pricing Overview

Commercially Confidential Pricing

Detailed pricing is considered commercially sensitive and is provided to prospective clients upon request, subject to an executed Non-Disclosure Agreement (NDA).

Quoted discounts assume standard implementation pathways and minimum term commitments; variations may be reflected in the final pricing schedule.

Pricing is dependent on the specific service configuration and customer requirements. Final pricing may be influenced by one or more of the following factors:

- Scope and scale of initial implementation and onboarding
- Subscription and hosting model (e.g. public or private cloud)
- Number of environments
- Required integrations with third-party systems
- Number and type of users
- Volume of data managed by the platform (including retention requirements)
- Data migration requirements (including source systems and transformation needs)
- Functional modules selected
- Required levels of maintenance, support and service coverage
- Service delivery targets (e.g. service levels and reporting)
- Contract duration and term commitment
- Training and user enablement requirements
- Minimum commitment period 12 months

Price on Application

Pricing is provided on a price-on-application basis and is determined in line with the agreed service scope. Prices are proportionate to service usage and contractual scope, reflecting our specialist experience delivering services for regulatory bodies and government agencies.
