About Us

Lookthru is a UK-based business intelligence consultancy that helps clients to transform their raw data into actionable insights, optimising business processes and leverage automated workflows.

Why Us?

Clients across the globe are recognising the value that Lookthru delivers. By choosing Lookthru, they benefit from a level of service that consistently exceeds expectations. Through close collaboration with our team, we build trusted, long-term partnerships and ensure a positive, rewarding experience at every stage of the journey.

Our Values

We believe clarity builds confidence. We cut through complexity to provide clear insights, honest guidance and straightforward solutions that our customers can trust.

From communication to delivery, we are clear, honest and accountable, ensuring customers always understand the “why” behind our recommendations.

We work with our customers, not just for them. By collaborating closely and listening carefully, we build long-term relationships based on mutual trust and shared goals.

We deliver consistently high standards, meet commitments and provide solutions that perform as expected.

Our solutions are guided by insight, data and experience. We empower customers with intelligent analysis that supports informed, confident decisions.

Lookthru is driven by a clear set of values that guide how we work with our clients.

Our Mission

To provide clarity through insight—empowering our clients with transparent, intelligent solutions that drive confident decision-making and long-term success.

We achieve this by combining industry expertise with a collaborative, client-focused approach. Through careful analysis, open communication and intelligent use of data and technology, we deliver transparent solutions tailored to our client's needs.

By working in close partnership and maintaining a clear focus on outcomes, we enable confident decision-making and support sustainable, long-term success.

Lookthru helps public sector entities to analyse, streamline and automate business processes using recognised BPM methodologies and established RPA platforms within existing cloud environments. Our service focuses on reviewing current process landscapes, designing automation workflows and embedding governance controls to ensure automation solutions are effective, secure and scalable.

Our approach enables organisations to improve efficiency, standardise workflows, remove process bottlenecks and achieve measurable automation benefits. This service supports the sustained adoption and optimisation of BPM and RPA technologies.

What can it do for you?

Reduce reliance on manual processing and streamline how work gets done.

By analysing and improving existing processes, bottlenecks can be removed, workflows can be standardised and automation introduced where it adds real value. We introduce changes in a structured way with governance in place to keep control of how processes evolve.

This results in operations that are more efficient with more consistent outcomes and platforms that are secure, well governed and ready to scale up.

Customer requirement

We work closely with stakeholders to understand objectives, constraints and priorities to ensure we deploy the correct skill set to meet the clients needs from the offset.

Confirm Availability

We ensure the appropriate team is available and onboarded, maintaining continuity throughout the project.

Coordinate & Streamline

Based on our experience, we align ways of working, governance and delivery from the outset, enabling effective collaboration through clear communication, escalation routes and regular reviews.

Define & Manage Scope

We clearly define and manage the scope of services, including deliverables, timelines, quality standards, and dependencies. This ensures aligned expectations and a controlled, transparent delivery process.

Review & Offboard

Before work commences, we review and finalise the service agreement. At offboarding, we ensure a smooth transition, to ensure knowledge transfer and clear documentation are handed over.

Lookthru holds the following accreditations, which collectively demonstrate our commitment to quality management, information security and ethical service delivery.

Lookthru delivers secure, reliable and data-led services to public sector and regulated organisations. Our delivery approach is underpinned by robust governance, clearly defined operational controls and a strong focus on information security, service quality and risk management.

Our accreditations demonstrate that Lookthru operates in alignment with recognised international standards and has been independently assessed against rigorous criteria. These certifications provide assurance that our people, processes and systems support consistent, compliant and well-governed service delivery across the full service lifecycle, from discovery and design through to implementation and live service support.

They also evidence our commitment to protecting client and user data, managing information and operational risk effectively and continuously improving the quality and resilience of our services. Lookthru maintains responsible and ethical business practices to ensure fair and compliant employment practices across the organisation, supporting sustainable and reliable delivery for public sector clients.
