1.0 Scope of our services

Description

The EPR Unstructured data portal opens the world of unstructured in Oracle Health's Millennium EPR. There is a significant volume of clinically rich data that is held in the Millennium EPR as unstructured data including the following areas:

- a. All clinical documentation
- b. All clinical notes
- c. Microbiology results
- d. Virology results
- e. Radiology results

Features

- Decompress all unstructured (BLOB) data held in the Millennium database
- Feed your clinical research needs with rich unstructured data
- Use the portal to build cohorts of patients for research

Benefits

- Save costs by automatically feeding unstructured data into your research platforms rather than using human time to look through digital clinical notes
- Save time by ratifying the size of the cohort for your potential research projects
