

Strategy and Implementation

Service Overview

The successful delivery of Cloud projects is significantly enhanced by leveraging experienced, expert Strategy and Implementation services.

As part of the Strategy and Implementation service, Telefónica Tech can help you with:

Understanding Cloud Technology –the impact of Cloud technology, its benefits, and potential challenges. This knowledge sharing includes both the technical aspects of Cloud computing and the operational, service, and business elements.

Developing a Cloud Roadmap –identify which Cloud technologies and services could be implemented within your organisation and plot these out on a structured timeline;

Developing a Business Case for Cloud –providing advice around what benefits can be achieved, such as performance improvement and cost reduction, that can be entered into a business case;

Cloud Technology Procurement – assisting in managing the procurement process, conducting market soundings, documenting business and technical requirements, evaluating bidder responses, and recommending the best fit for your business; and

Realising the Benefits – helping you prove to the organisation that the benefits identified in the business case have been realised.

Our customers across public and private sector organisations, including Healthcare, Education, Policing, Criminal Justice, and Local Government, rely on Telefónica Tech for the smooth operation and timely development of their business-critical systems. Our Strategy and Implementation capability enable their success.
