

Snowflake Data & AI Platform

Service Overview

Telefónica Tech provide comprehensive setup, configuration and ongoing management of all Snowflake platform components. This includes designing and implementing secure, enterprise-scale Data and AI Platforms as well as modern Data Warehouses that support advanced analytics across the organisation. Our service ensures that customers can fully leverage Snowflake's cloud-native architecture to deliver robust Data Analytics, Business Intelligence and AI capabilities.

Beyond the initial deployment, Telefónica Tech oversee the end-to-end lifecycle of the platform. This covers environment provisioning, governance design, role-based access controls, performance optimisation and continuous monitoring to maintain platform resilience. We also ensure seamless integration with existing systems and third-party tools, enabling customers to unify data from multiple sources and accelerate insights. Our experts apply industry best practice in data engineering, automation, security and operational management, ensuring that your Data and AI estate remains scalable, cost-efficient and aligned to business needs.
