2 Service Overview

An agile approach to management information

Today's operating environment for Public Sector organisations is characterised by increasing change and uncertainty. However existing management information systems are often unable to cope with the pace of change. This can lead to a mix of disparate supplementary solutions being developed, often involving the proliferation of stand-alone Excel spreadsheets. As a consequence, organisations often have fragmented data sources, with no common structure, that are difficult to analyse and time-consuming to maintain.

Organisations need an agile solution to structure, store, manage and process their data – one that will flex and scale easily with their changing business needs – even if only as an interim solution whilst defining and implementing changes to 'business as usual' systems.

With our Agile Management Information Solutions (MIS) offering, we are able to assist you in integrating data from across your organisation, turning your fragmented data into a structured, relational data asset that enables analysis of relationships between key business drivers and trend analysis over time.

Agile MIS is a cloud-based, web-enabled solution that is tailored to meet your specific management information requirements. It is a cost-effective solution that improves user access, reporting times and governance.

Key features and benefits

Efficiency: Agile MI Solutions are quicker and efficient to implement than a manual process and more cost-effective than many other technology solutions.

Effectiveness: Multiple users from different locations can access the Service, which also provides a clear audit trail of any changes made – improving user access, reporting times and governance.

Insight: The Agile MI Solution acts as the 'Golden Source of Truth', with the Service enabling you to focus on driving analysis and insights from your data.

Flexibility: Through our additional support services, you can scale data structures as you continue to build your data asset over time, as well as adapting the solution flexibly as your data and information requirements develop.
